WILL LIVE
IN H.K.

NOW working on her twenty-first romantic novel, a young English writer, whose love stories are widely read by women, will arrive in Hongkong this week to live here with her naval officer husband.

She is Marjorie Price, 31-year-old author of "The Mantle of Saltash," and "Pandora Dances."

Her husband, Lieut. F. C. V. Brightman, arrived in Hongkong last week. Mrs. Brightman is remaining in Singapore for a fortnight to join H.M.S. Westcott.

"My latest novel is about life at Malta, where I spent several months, while my husband was stationed there," the well-known authoress said recently.

Before she married, Mrs. Brightman had had about five novels published.

"Most of my books are heart-throb stories," she said with a smile. "And it is great fun for me to watch typists and shop girls eagerly reading them in the buses and tubes at home."

Mrs. Brightman says she finds life as a naval wife eminently suitable for her work. A novelist can work anywhere and if she has the opportunity of seeing as much of the world as a naval wife invariably has, she always has new settings for stories. She left England to marry her husband in Burma when he was stationed there. After leaving home to dance in musical comedy, she wrote her first novel, "The Mantle of Saltash," to amuse herself.

PROTECTING JAPANESE IN COLONY

Consul-General Sees
Police Commissioner

THE "TELEGRAPH" is authoritatively informed that a warning has been issued to all Japanese subjects residing in Hongkong to be cautious in view of the possibility of anti-Japanese feeling arising amongst the Chinese in the Colony.

The warning to the Japanese was conveyed by their Consul General, Mr. T. Nakamura.

It is understood from authoritative sources that Mr. Nakamura interviewed the Hon. T. H. King, Commissioner of Police, on Wednesday, and requested that precautionary measures be taken for the complete protection of Japanese residents in Hongkong.

It is understood that the Police Department had already increased the normal guards which have been protecting Japanese business establishments, hotels and residences, before Mr. Nakamura's approach was made.

Mr. Nakamura has also addressed an official note to the Government of Macao, requesting the Portuguese authorities to take appropriate measures for protecting Japanese subjects residing there.

Plot To Seize Power In Sofia

LONDON, Oct. 13. The Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Belgrade reported to-day that a plot had been hatched to overthrow the Government of Sofia.

He added that many members of a Macedonian secret revolutionary organisation had been arrested, and ordered to leave the country as a result of General Poer's assassination.

It is officially announced that a search of the anti-social hide-outs had resulted in many arrests. The police were believed the streets were safe. —United Press.

BRITAIN MAY SEND MORE WARSHIPS TO CHINA

Chamberlain Returning To London this Week

Special to "Telegraph".

(Telecommunication Ordinance 1936. Copyright by United Press. Received 6.30 a.m. Published 10.30 a.m.)

LONDON, Oct. 13.

THE DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT OF THE "DAILY EXPRESS" PREDICTED TODAY THAT THE CABINET MIGHT DECIDE THIS WEEK-END TO STRENGTHEN THE BRITISH NAVAL FORCES IN FAR EASTERN WATERS.

It is understood, states the Correspondent, that Mr. Chamberlain is curtailing his vacation in Scotland for the second time since the beginning of September.

He will probably return to London to initiate a big-scale armament drive and at the same time consider suggestions that the China Station squadron should be substantially increased in view of the Japanese invasion of Kwangtung province.

The present British China Squadron, exclusive of Yangtse River gunboats, consists of the 5th Cruiser Squadron, comprising six cruisers; the aircraft carrier Eagle, the 8th Destroyer Flotilla, comprising nine destroyers; five vessels—H.M. ships Folkestone, Sandwich, Falmouth, Grimsby and Lowestoft—employed on patrol duties; the submarines Odin, Otus, Olympus, Orpheus, Perseus, Parthian, Phoenix, Pandora, Proteus, Rainbow, Rover, Regent, Regulus, Grampus and Rorqual; five West River gunboats, and H.M. ships Thracian and Thanet, of the local Defence Flotilla.

Recently two speedy motor torpedo boats, the first of a flotilla of similar craft, were added to the Station.

With docking accommodation now available at Singapore and the easing of tension in Europe, the "Daily Express" envisages the possible despatch of one or two battleships to the Far East in addition to other smaller craft.

The Cabinet, at the meeting to be called by the Premier, will have placed before it proposals for a great speed-up in British armaments, particular emphasis being laid upon fighting airplanes.

In addition, it is expected that the controversial conscription issue will be fully investigated before Parliament meets again next month. —United Press.

MUSSOLINI BELIEVES JAPAN WILL WIN

Rome, Oct. 13.

It is learned that on receiving the mission of visiting Japanese journalists to-day Signor Mussolini expressed the opinion that he was confident the Japanese would be victorious in the war in China and would eventually banish Communism in the Far East.

A victory by Japan will permit that country to carry out the development which is a necessity for a strong, sound and meritorious people. —United Press.

Anglo-Italian Parleys Resumed in Rome

ROME, Oct. 13.

Resuming negotiations for a quick settlement of the Spain's problem, Lord Perth, British Ambassador to Rome, unexpectedly ordered on Count Clano, the Italian Foreign Minister.

It is assumed that Lord Perth had received London instructions regarding the new aspect of the problem.

Coincident with the visit was the publication of the list of Black-shirt casualties in Spain, and there are indications that Signor Mussolini is displeased with the effect of the reportation order in Britain and France.

Apparently he hoped that the British would agree to make effective a friendship pact as a result, whereas instead Britain has displayed no enthusiasm for the number to be repatriated, and is reluctant that the numbers be increased. —United Press.

NEW CRISIS IN EUROPE

Czech-Hungarian Parleys Cease

KOMAROM, Oct. 13.

CAUSING A GRAVE CRISIS in the negotiations between the Carpatho-Ruthenian delegates and the Hungarian authorities, official despatches have disclosed a reign of terror in Ruthenia by organised gangs equipped with foreign arms and led by Hungarian reserve officers.

It is officially reported that there has been sporadic fighting and at least two Czechs have been killed, while many Hungarians have been arrested.

The Czech Government has invoked martial law.

It is also reported that terrorism is rife in Bratislava. A number of Hungarians have been arrested and charged with terrorist activity.

At Mukacevo, the centre of the Ruthenian terrorist outbreak, there is "murder, manslaughter, robbery and crimes endangering the public" according to the official description.

Meanwhile, the Czech-Hungarian relations are very strained. —United Press.

HUNGARIANS DEPART

BUDAPEST, Oct. 13. Negotiations between Hungary and Czechoslovakia were broken off at 7.12 p.m. this evening. The meeting lasted only five minutes, and the Hungarian delegation returned to the Hungarian side of the town of Komarom and boarded a steamer. Mr. Kollar, Foreign Minister, issued a statement emphasising that the Czech counter-proposals, referring to the new frontier, differed to such an extent from the Hungarian viewpoint, and there was such a wide gulf between the stand-points of the two delegations concerning fundamental principles of the new settlement that they cannot hope to be bridged through the present negotiations.

The statement adds that Hungary will require the speediest possible settlement of its territorial claims against Czechoslovakia by the four powers, who are signatories to the Munich protocol.

CZECHS REFUSE TO GIVE WAY

BUDAPEST, Oct. 13. Reports from Komarom state that in a two-hour session the Czechs were unexpectedly firm concerning their negotiations with Hungary over minority rights, an attitude which is attributed to the German and Hungarian assurances of support.

It is understood that the Czechs offered to cede an area inhabited by more than 100,000 Hungarians. However, the Czechs are adamant in their refusal to surrender Bratislava, Kosice and other cities.

Meanwhile, Hungarian extremists are arming for war. One of the newspapers observes: "We will obtain mineral resources in Czechoslovakia even if we have to do so with our bare hands." —United Press.

Dr. Maberley
says:

Radio is converting us into a nation of listeners, and in some measure making us less sociable.

"There is far too much listening nowadays, and while there is much to be said for a good listener, it is far more advantageous, both from a personal and social point of view, that people should take some part in the life and interests, around them.

"Before the advent of radio people used to call on one another and find fresh interests in discussions and conversations with their neighbours.

"But to-day they sit at home listening to lectures and speeches, and find little opportunity to express their own views on these subjects."

SCOUTMASTER'S ALLEGED MERCY MURDER PLEA

Story Of Drive With Nurses After Mothers' Death

A 29-year-old Scoutmaster who was alleged to have said that his mother asked him to end her sufferings faced a charge of murder at Torquay recently.

It was stated that the man, Norman John Walter Smith, walked into the police station on August 28 and said he had killed his mother, Mrs. Alice Maud Smith, at their home at Hill Park Road, Torquay.

Mr. G. R. Paling, prosecuting, said Mrs. Smith lived apart from her husband, Smith lived with her and supported her with the salary he received as a solicitor's clerk.

On Friday, August 26, his employment ended and on the Sunday, he called at the police station and said to Sergeant Taylor: "Sergeant, I have killed my mother. Don't look alarmed. I hit her with a rolling-pin." He added that she had suffered from internal trouble.

The officer went with Smith to the house and in a bedroom he saw the mother's body.

PUT HER TO BED

Smith said: "I have washed her and done her hair, and then put her to bed, as you see."

Smith further said: "I promised mother on Friday I would take two nurses for a ride on Sunday morning, so I took them out before I came here."

To Det-Sergeant Roper, Mr. Paling continued, Smith said, "I have no regrets, officer. She is better off than she has been for 12 years."

Mr. Paling read a statement alleged to have been made by Smith. "I then went downstairs to get the supper. I was taking the frying-pan off the hook and I had to take the rolling-pin off first."

"I had my fingers through the string when I heard a bump and a shriek from upstairs. I rushed upstairs and found my mother kneeling down. She said: 'For God's sake, Norman, finish me quick!'" "Without hesitation, I lifted the rolling-pin and hit her two or three quick blows on the head."

If that statement was proved, Mr. Paling said, Smith killed his mother on the Saturday evening.

He remained in the house that night and the next morning, took two women for a ride in his motor-car. Mr. Paling said that when Smith was searched a document purporting to be his will was found on him. It contained the clause: "I desire my body to be cremated with that of my darling mother, and the ashes to be thrown in the sea."

Mr. Paling said: "That document was dated August 26, the day he left his employment. I suggest that he formed on the Friday the intention to commit this offence and possibly some other offence."

Police-Sergeant Taylor said Smith appropriated some of the firm's money.

Smith was committed for trial at the next Devon Assizes.

DISGUSTING

"It is disgusting to see a girl of 15 with her face made up like that. Take her home now and see that she washes her face and bring her back later."

The West London magistrate, Mr. Paul Bennett, said this to the father of a girl accused of insulting behaviour, who appeared heavily rouged and powdered.

She returned without make-up and the case was adjourned.

Drivers "Steam-Bound"

Warren, Mass.

Motorists complained of being "steam-bound" during an electrical storm in which the temperature tumbled 30 degrees in 15 minutes.

Drivers said that because of the rapid drop in temperature, steam rising from the highways was so dense it cut off their vision.

ROTHSCHILD RANSOM: HALF A BUSINESS

TURNING down £120,000 offered as "ransom" for Baron Louis Rothschild, imprisoned in Vienna, Germany's Nazis are now demanding not merely money but a foothold in Czechoslovakia.

They want control of the Wittkowitz works, the Czechs' biggest industrial concern, 51 per cent. of whose shares are held by the Austrian Rothschilds.

To this end they have sent a lawyer, Dr. Erich Fuehrer, to Paris to negotiate with the French branch of the Rothschild family, as well as with Baron Louis' brother, Baron Alphonse Rothschild.

Baron Louis, imprisoned by the Gestapo soon after Hitler seized Austria, should have been freed a fortnight ago.

The Austrian Rothschilds offered £120,000 for his release while the French family also declared itself willing to make a considerable contribution.

But this is not enough for the Nazis.

They see in the possession of the Wittkowitz shares an economic foothold—and an important one—in Czechoslovakia.

The other 49 per cent. of the shares are held by Zivno, the big Czech holdings.

PREPARE YOUR CARROT DIET

Carrots are chopped up as fine as possible until they are almost mashed, then put in a muslin bag and the juice squeezed into a cup. Nothing is added.

Young carrots give the most juice, which is extremely sweet.

It is drunk as often as fancied in whatever quantity.

When the stars are on the 1 lb. a day reducing diet, they take nothing but vegetable and fruit juices. It is claimed that these are so sustaining that solid food is unnecessary. Vegetable broths are allowed as a change.

A LIVENER

On the keep-your-weight-as-it-is diet, carrot juice is taken as a morning livener and at any other time during the day. It is often served as a pre-lunch cocktail, is supposed to clear up the bloodstream and to be very effective for dealing with puffy eyes and too many chins.

In addition, Dr. Benjamin Gaylord Houser, dietician to the stars, who started the carrot cure, prescribes an individual diet for each person's needs.

Wholemeal flour is used and either raw sugar or honey.

Potatoes must be baked. Meat is allowed once a day with all kinds of clear soups. The chief dishes in the diet are salads, vegetables and fruits—especially oranges.

Steamed puddings and creamy pastries become once-in-a-while treats, and drinks are allowed in "strict moderation."

HONGKONG'S HOUSING PROBLEMS: EFFORT TO SUGGEST SOLUTION

Remarkable Document By Public Works Dept. Official

ECONOMICS OF COOLIE CHINESE A BIG FACTOR

IN A MEMORANDUM, remarkable for its comprehensiveness, and brilliant in its analytical description, Mr. W. H. Owen, B.Sc., A.R.I.B.A., A.M.T.P.I., of the Public Works Department, endeavours to tackle the housing and slum problems of Hongkong. The memorandum, which is incorporated in the Housing Commission's report published yesterday, makes bold, not only to show why Hongkong has such acute housing and over-crowding problems, but to indicate the lines along which to solve them.

Mr. Owen insists that it is useless to consider housing and slum problems, without taking into full cognisance the economics attached thereto. Legislation, he says, which ignores economics is useless. He therefore pays considerable attention, not only to economics of Hongkong's housing problems, but to the financial considerations involved, while in an appendix he offers plans of what he regards as the most desirable type of tenement house to be built for the lower-class Chinese, whose incomes are too low to permit them to rent normal accommodation.

The memorandum is too long to produce in its entirety in one issue, but because it is a document of considerable interest and value, the Telegraph is reproducing it in serial form during the next two or three days. The first section which is published to-day deals with the history of housing and slum problems, as well as the sociological and economic aspects apropos Hongkong.

The first part of the memorandum is as follows:

1. The provision of housing for the working classes is a world-wide problem as yet not completely solved. In Hongkong, the problem is initially one of economics, arising from the fact that the majority of the working classes cannot, out of their earnings, pay a rent which will cover running costs and provide interest on the capital outlay required, whether the capital be provided by the State, or by private enterprise. House building is a method of putting capital to use for private gain. For the State, it is a matter of social duty and the profit motive can be eliminated. Until recent years the State has failed to compete with private enterprise, but the steadily improving standards required for working class houses have cut down profits to such an extent that, for the most part, the building of working class houses is no longer attractive to the private investor, and the State has been forced to enter the field.

2. The housing problem is an old as the hills, but it is only in comparatively recent times that any concerted and sustained attempt has been made to solve it. The present movement began in Europe with the rise of industrialism at the beginning of the 19th Century. The rapid influx of people from the country to the towns found municipal necessitated action being taken by the State. The economic effects of pre-war legislation controlling housing, public health and communications had led to the working class housing becoming almost standardised and plan. The building was deep and narrow fronted, similar to the normal Chinese tenement in Hongkong. The high cost of building after the war necessitated the strictest economy and, on examination, it was found that the present type of house was uneconomical in plan. It was found that the nearer the plan approached to a square the cheaper the cost of the building covering the same area of land and the greater the access of light and air in all parts. In spite of the utmost attempts at economy, costs could not be reduced sufficiently to enable the working classes to pay an economic rent. The responsibility for providing working class houses was thrust on to the local authorities but little was done until the Government agreed that, whatever the loss, no part of it exceeding a rate of one pound in the pound should fall upon the local authority. The supply of houses resulting from this was, numerically, a great success but the cost to the State enormous. In consequence methods were changed and a grant was offered of a fixed subsidy per house of specified size built by private enterprise to let at a fixed and subsidised rental authority for houses built to let. This method resulted in 400,000 houses being built in six years, but the majority were built to sell and not to let. The poorer working classes remained unprovided for. Other difficulties in the way of providing houses were shortage of labour and the high cost of materials. Costs reached their peak in 1927 but by 1929 had fallen to the levels of 1923. Even so rents were still beyond the capacity of the poorer classes, and the slum problem had not been touched. Between 1923 and 1931, 1,000,000 houses were built of which about 1,000,000 were for sale and the remainder, owing to high rents, were mainly let to the superior artisan and professional classes, most of whom could afford an economic rent.

3. The standard of accommodation to be provided will depend on what the prospective tenant can afford and, therefore, on what can be afforded. In many European schemes no bathing or laundry facilities are provided, but in most cases this is balanced by the provision of communal bath houses and laundries. There must also be taken into account the cost and availability of public supplies for water, power and light and heating.

4. It can be seen therefore that to consider housing from one point of view only is to court failure. The factors affecting housing can be broadly classified under four headings, sociology, hygiene and standards, finance, and planning.

SOCIOLOGY

5. A very large proportion of the working class Chinese in Hongkong is composed of immigrants from South China. Before their arrival in Hongkong they lived in villages and were engaged chiefly in agricultural pursuits and native industries. For the purpose of defence and administration, the villages were generally compactly built and surrounded by a wall. In the absence of wheeled traffic, roads are reduced to the minimum necessary for pedestrian circulation. In most rural communities sanitation is extremely primitive. With no large herds of livestock to provide manure, human waste was used for this purpose. The limitations placed by the surrounding wall on an expanding population have inevitably resulted in over-crowding.

6. The normal village house is deep and narrow fronted, with a maximum usable length of the Chinese six paces with which most floors and roofs are constructed. The ground floor is one long room, with a minute courtyard at the back dividing the living room from the kitchen; frequently there is no courtyard. A narrow staircase leads up to the upper floor, which is a repetition of the ground floor, or to a cockpit (mezzanine) floor used for sleeping purposes. Windows are small and the interior usually dark. The ground floor is the living room, and also the work shop, and is often used for sleeping purposes as well. The factory is unknown in the country districts, and all native industries are centred on the home.

7. The Chinese peasant works long hours for a scanty wage and gets practically no holidays. In general, the Chinese are inclined to be fatalists. Although this attitude facilitates the government of the masses, it is unfortunate inimical to progress. Contact with Europe is bound, in the course of time, to have some effect on the character of those who make Hongkong their home. The weekend holiday, sport, and a high standard of cleanliness and sanitation are taken for granted amongst the better paid Chinese. Sooner or later the claim for better living conditions from the masses is sure to be pressed. The longer action is delayed the more costly it will be.

8. As in Europe, the town attracted people from the country, so Hongkong has attracted the population from the neighbouring provinces of South China. Their habits and customs have had an enormous effect on the development of the town. The standard tenement has replaced the traditional form of the village house, but with an increased number of rooms. Overbuilding, over-crowding, and lack of sanitation have been taken for granted, as to such conditions, and their fatalistic attitude towards life has probably in strong, direct, form, been responsible. It must be conceded that, when Hongkong became a British colony, conditions were little better in Europe. It is natural however that the spirit of improvement in Europe should be reflected in a British colony in the East, but, in the case of Hongkong, the lagged far behind the mother country. In consequence, in 1931, when the population was returned at nearly 850,000, there were some 270 acres populated at an average density of over 1,000 per acre, and the maximum usable length of the Chinese six paces with which most floors and roofs are constructed. Since the commencement of hostilities in China, there has been a rapid increase in the local population, which is now estimated at about 1,250,000. During the last few years the rate of building has been high, and, therefore, it is therefore safe to assume that the above mentioned densities are now greatly exceeded. The houses themselves average over three stories in height and are built on a density of approximately 30 per acre. Much has been done to improve sanitation, but, even so, there are still hundreds of houses with one latrine per house and, for the use of the ground tenants only. To add more latrines, even when additional people would only add to the cost of the building, and would result in increased rents and a rise in the poverty of the masses, increased over-crowding. If any improvement is to be effected it can only be done by reducing building and population density everywhere.

9. The present bulk of Hongkong industries are still of the "home" variety. The ground floor of nearly every tenement is either a shop or workshop. The factory system has made its appearance, but through lack of planning in this direction the factories are competing with houses for building sites and further adding to congestion and confusion.

10. Industry and housing are so intimately related that it is impossible to consider one without the other. People live by industry and their standard of living is directly governed by the measure of return derived from industry. The type of industry, to a great extent, governs the type of housing and its situation in relation to industry.

INDUSTRIAL DIFFICULTIES

11. In any well planned community proper provision should be made for industry and housing. In Hongkong the basic industries are shipping and commerce. Arising from these two, numerous other industries have become established, many of them, such as building, shipbuilding and engineering, being of a semi-skilled nature and providing work for large numbers of employees. There are still remains, though, and one thing in the way of goods and services which are considered.

Two-Day Race Meeting Great Success: Fast Runs Seen

Favourites Had Lean Time On Second Day Of Carnival

(By "Captain Foster")

The Double Tenth Meeting under the auspices of the Hongkong Jockey Club held on Saturday and Monday at Happy Valley was without any doubt a huge success from every point of view.

The attendance on the first day was pretty good, but on Monday the crowd was much bigger and this could be easily gauged by the support received by the cash sweep department. In the last race, the lucky ticket No. 1621 which drew Mr. Li Lan-sung's Scenic View in the Kiangsu Handicap, received $3,304 for an outlay of $2.

The track was in excellent condition and although no new records were established there were a few fast runs, especially in the Kiangsu Handicap for "B" class China ponies. This event was won by Mr. L. Dunbar's Red Feather, piloted by Peter Wei, from the 1½ mile post (about half a mile 170 yards) in 1.07¾ and the scramble was faster by one three-fifths seconds than King's Warden's time for the Double Tenth Plate over the same distance.

Racing was of very high standard, but the two main events, the October Handicap and the Double Tenth Plate, were poor, for there were only three starters for each race. However, all other events were keenly contested with several good finishes and this spoke volumes for the handicapping.

Centre Court Starts The Ball Rolling

The favourites had a lean afternoon on Monday, the crash commencing like a procession from the second event and Centre Court, with S. W. Tang in the saddle, started the ball rolling with a dividend of $205.20 for a win in the Canberra Handicap over the champion course for "A" class Australian ponies. This was followed by an explosion in the fifth race when National Guard, cleverly ridden by Young Wing-kwai, captured the novice event, the Fokien Plate, over a mile and paid $530 to the delight of 23 staunch supporters. The jockey not only broke his "duck" but the pay-out was the biggest of this season, the best last being by Oak Bay who handed out $431.30 for a win in the Judo Handicap. Young's success caused another sensation, for National Guard was the flat leg of the daily double and there were six backers who could not connect the second leg. One of these six "unfortunate" selected Coronation Day while another picked Plain View. There were two tickets on Salvage Master, who was beaten by Gold Coin one each on Valorous (third pony) and Whiskey. The most interesting feature of the gamble was that Gold Coin was made a hot favourite in the pari-mutuel department, but none of these six backers would place any confidence in the mare even with a crack jockey like Encarnacao. The pool of $3,704 will be carried over to the next meeting on October 22 and it is interesting to relate that this will be the third since the inception in 1933. The last pool carried over was on November 2 in 1935 when punters failed to connect Night Star with Beginner's Luck.

V. V. Needa Best Jockey Of Meeting

Append below a complete list of the successful riders:

	1st	2nd	3rd
V. V. Needa	3	3	4
P. Y. Wei	3	2	1
C. Encarnacao	2	1	1
A. W. Raymond	2	1	2
H. C. Pih	2	1	2
S. W. Tang	1	2	1
H. J. Hearne	1	1	1
B. Proulx	1	1	1
Young Wing-kwai	1	1	1
P. L. Jui	1	2	1
B. L. Tso	1	2	1
L. Wade	1	1	1
L. W. Collom	1	1	1
P. P. Botelho	1	1	1
H. P. Chanson	1	1	1
S. W. Lee	1	1	1
C. L. Gregory	1	1	1

The champion jockey of the meeting was V. V. Needa who has a ratio of 3-3-4, followed by Peter Wei who rode three winners with two seconds and a third. It will be seen that Needa was placed ten times out of a total of 10 events and those who had backed him must have been on the right side. C. Encarnacao figures third in the list while Alan Raymond is closely behind, losing the position by only a third.

OCTOBER HANDICAP A TAME AFFAIR

The October Handicap, which promised to be a great event, turned out a tame affair and Mr. Moller's Silky-light had an easy canter to win by four good lengths. Owing to the low impostation allotted to King's Warden and the pony being ridden by Needa, the Dynasty's candidate had some support in the betting but the grey stallion could not put a flight. It was indeed a great pity that Desert Chief could not weigh out owing to a stir shoulder and the other nomination, Cameronsland, belonging to Mr. Eu Tong-sen was considered by the connections to be a sprinter. However, Bear Claw with S. W. Tang up, broke the tape first with Silky-light and King's Warden hanging on behind. At the football gate Needa took his mount forward and he maintained the lead until the 1½ mile beacon was reached when we saw the transformation scene. At this juncture Silky-light was given a stroke of the cane and the brown stallion responded so gamely that Proulx had no difficulty in overtaking King's Warden. In less than a second Proulx got on level terms with the leader and thereafter he had an arm-chair ride down the straight, winning by four lengths. In fact Proulx eased his mount in the last 100 yards from the touch line and the whole distance was covered in 2.30¾ which was two-fifths of a second faster than the Nathan Handicap (first section) for "B" class China ponies.

FAITH IN ELIZABETH JUSTIFIED

Judging by her performance in the Nathan Handicap (second section) over a distance jaunt, the opinion formed by punters was that Elizabeth was more of a sprinter

RUGGERITES PREPARING FOR SEASON

RUGGER MATCHES AT HOME

London, Oct. 13. East Midlands and Leicestershire had a very evenly-contested game in the County Rugby championship at Bedford to-day, the result being a draw of 13-13.

Nottinghamshire, Lincolnshire and Derbyshire defeated Warwickshire by 13-9.

The Police Union trounced Cornwall to the tune of 22-0.—Reuter.

than a slayer. On Monday when she weighed out for the Yunnan Handicap over six furlongs, Elizabeth was made the favourite and here was justification placed in the mare for she, in spite of the load, won as she liked in easy fashion. Considering the state of the going, the race was undoubtedly fast and the journey was timed in 1.28¾ which was really good. The brown mare is the property of Sir Vandeleur Grayburn, who christened her after his daughter and Mrs. Elizabeth Grayburn, who arrived here a few days before the meeting, was tickled and delighted to lead in her Elizabeth.

NATIONAL GUARD SURPRISES BIG FIELD OF CRACKS

After a sequence of four unplaced outings National Guard, with Young Wing-kwai up, presented his credentials to the two judges and the pony came home first in the Fokien Plate for "E" class China ponies and sub-division of this season. It was an amazing feat, for there were several good "uns" in the field such as Dark Hazard, Double Chance, Easy Time, Wenning and Yum Sing and, being a novice event, some allowance must be given. Dark Hazard unseated his pilot after passing the judge's box for the first time, but luckily nothing happened to the jockey, Chiu, who was riding in the rear. The novices were out to kill each other and a fast race was seen. Timing was not necessary and the first half of the circuit was run in 1.05, the last half being covered in 1.07¾. The result was that the ponies were crawling down the straight, the last quarter being chinked in 33¾ seconds. However National Guard paid $530 for a win, the best of this season. There were only six backers on the pony for the first leg of the daily double.

Favourite Not Backed In The Daily Double!

It was not very edifying reading to those six punters when they found in the gambling sheet issued by the Club showing that Gold Coin had not been backed in the second selected race, the Hunan Handicap for "D" class China ponies, and the pool of $3,704 was to be carried over to the next meeting. It was impossible to understand, for Gold Coin was made a hot favourite in the pari-mutuel and she was neglected in the second leg of the daily double.

SPECIAL SWEEP

The main attraction to the Ninth Extra Race Meeting to be held on October 22 will be the Kwangtung Handicap for "D" class China ponies over a mile in which a special dollar cash sweep is being conducted by the Hongkong Jockey Club. The sale of this special lottery has exceeded 150,000 tickets and it is expected to reach the 200,000 mark ere long. Should the sale reach this figure, the first prize is guaranteed over $100,000.

SHANGHAI INTERPORTERS

ARRIVE IN COLONY: BOWLERS, GOLFERS

Two Interport teams from Shanghai arrived in the Colony this morning. The lawn bowlers came by the Tainan and the golfers by the Rajputana.

The lawn bowlers who reached Hongkong to-day were H. Wallace, captain and manager of the team, J. M. C. Lopes, W. J. MacDermot and K. L. Swartzell. The other two members of the team, J. W. Brierley and A. M. Gutierrez, have been here for a few days.

On their arrival, the Shanghai players were met by officials of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association, including Mr. A. Hyde-Lay (President), Mr. C. B. Hosking (Hon. Secretary), and several members of the Hongkong team.

The official programme of the team commences to-morrow with a match against the Cringewower C.C., but it is more than likely that the visitors will be given a green for practice this afternoon.

Local officials are anxious to give the Shanghai players as much practice as possible before the First Interport, which will be played at Kowloon Ducks on Sunday. The programme is as follows:

THE PROGRAMME

The following is the programme drawn up for the visitors:

Saturday, Oct. 15.—Shanghai v.

Wednesday, Oct. 20.—Shanghai v. Yacht Club and Kowloon Tong at Kowloon Tong.

Thursday, Oct. 21.—Shanghai v. Taikoo and Hongkong Electric at Taikoo.

Friday, Oct. 22.—Shanghai v. Association Rink.

The Interport dinner will be held as arranged on Saturday, October 22 after the final interport.

Shanghai Golfers Now Practising At Fanling

Herman Is To Leave Hampshire

London, Sept. 30. Herman, the Hampshire fast bowler, has signed a contract to play for Rochdale, the Central Lancashire League club, for the next two seasons.

Herman, who has played for Hampshire since 1920, qualified from Oxford. He has taken 818 wickets for Hampshire, his best season being 1937, when he took 142 wickets and scored 810 runs. Last season he did the hat-trick against Glamorgan and took more than 100 wickets for the third year in succession. Earlier this week it was announced that Arnold, the Fulham footballer, was leaving Hampshire.

The programme is as follows:

THE PROGRAMME

The following is the programme drawn up for the visitors:

Saturday, Oct. 15.—Shanghai v.

Wednesday, Oct. 20.—Shanghai v. Yacht Club and Kowloon Tong at Kowloon Tong.

Thursday, Oct. 21.—Shanghai v. Taikoo and Hongkong Electric at Taikoo.

Friday, Oct. 22.—Shanghai v. Association Rink.

The Interport dinner will be held as arranged on Saturday, October 22 after the final interport.

Those selected to represent Hongkong in the series are O. E. C. Morton, T. A. Pearce, A. E. Lissaman, F. Groves, S. J. H. Fox, D. J. Gilmore, P. H. Scoones and R. Young.

EDRICH OUT FIRST BALL IN FAMILY MATCH

London, Sept. 14. A thousand villagers gasped in astonishment at Blofield (Norfolk) yesterday when William John Edrich, England Test cricketer, was out first ball.

They braved an incessant drizzle to see the hero of Norfolk cricket lead on to the pitch an eleven composed entirely of members of his family.

Blofield is the home of the Edriches, and this match was against an eleven skippered by Michael Falcon, Norfolk's captain.

CAUGHT FOR NOUGHT

Falcon's eleven had declared at 132 for 2 in order that the drenched spectators might see Edrich bat.

Hearty cheers greeted him as he went out to the crease with his father.

William Junior faced the bowling of G. E. Pilch, snicked a short ball, and was promptly caught by Rooney C. Rought-Rough, Cambridge Blue, playing his first game.

The Edriches made 65 for six before rain caused an abandonment.

In the Edrich team were the Test player's father, his three brothers, three cousins and three uncles.

London, Oct. 13. The following is the latest call-over for the Cesarewitch:

100/8 Black Spruce (o)

100/7 Solonaise (t and o)

100/6 Sulphur (t and o)

100/5 Snake Lightning (o)

25/1 Fet (t and o)

25/1 Contravent (o)

25/1 Nettle Weed (o), 33/1 (t)

33/1 Earth Stopper (o)

33/1 Punch (o), 40/1 (t)

"LADDER" SCHEME REJECTED

London, Sept. 30. The British Boxing Board of Control have rejected the "ladder" scheme submitted to them by the National Boxing Association (the boxers' union) for the rating of boxers. In a letter to the Association they state that, after examining the proposal, clause by clause, the stewards unanimously decided it would be "cumbersome, involved and quite unworkable." It would provide no advantage over the present scheme of finding area champions and national champions.

The stewards were of opinion that the mauldinuous challenges and contests involved, and the necessity for arbitrary discrimination "in placing boxers on their 'ladders'" would make the scheme impracticable and would result only in endless controversy.

Captained by W. J. Edrich, the Middlesex and England cricketer, the Edrich family team, including his father, brothers, uncles and cousins, played a match at Blofield (Norfolk) last month against an eleven skippered by the Norfolk county captain.

Football Clubs' Prospects

No. 20—FIGHTING MEN OF POMPEY

Although Portsmouth made such a bad start that they only narrowly escaped relegation last season, they played football worthy of champions when they really began to make progress. Indeed, their record then—33 points from their last 27 games—was surpassed only by the Arsenal.

The team, which fought so strenuously to keep the club in the First Division is available to start the new season, and it includes one of the strongest half-back lines in the League in Guthrie, Rowe and Wharton. Altogether 22 players have been re-engaged, and although there have been no sensational close-season captures, several promising youngsters have been signed, bringing the professionals up to 29.

RESERVE STRENGTH

Portsmouth's brightest prospect, in fact, lies in the strength of their reserves. Last season the second team were runners-up in the London Combination, and among them are several young players who would do well in any First Division side. There are one or two positions which the directors would like to see strengthened, but with a limited purse the club will probably have to be content with a few more juniors, in the hope of building them into good players.

Anyhow, Manager Jack Tinn is quite alive to the position, but, as he points out, the club can hardly give the public better football than was produced in the second half of last season, and if the team continue to show the same form Portsmouth will soon be among the League leaders.

Among the newcomers are two young six-footers in Ernest Butler, an 18-year-old goalkeeper from Bath City, and A. Dale, a 19-year-old back

Where Were They TWENTY YEARS AGO?

By George Edinger

THE War was nearly over, but nobody seemed to think so. Mr. Bonar Law was saying that the Allies would certainly have lost if it ever became possible for a man or group of men to plunge the world into such a conflict again.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain had just stopped being Minister of National Service with his own department at St. Ermin's Hotel. Mr. Charles Chaplin had just started his own company in Hollywood because "Shoulder Arms" had been so successful.

Sir Thomas Horder had got his knighthood (it was in the New Year's Honours List) for his work at the Royal Cancer Hospital in Fulham and managers were wondering who would replace Leslie Henson, drafted to the Flying Corps to do clerical work.

IVOR NOVELLO had made his name as an actor in "The Yellow Jacket" and as a composer by writing a pantomime hit, "Keep the Home Fires Burning." He had a musical comedy running called "Arlette," but he could not do very much about that because he was in the War Office (after two aeroplane crashes) working under the keen eye of Winston Churchill's Military Secretary, a young Lifeguardian called Sir Archibald Sinclair.

Corporal Hitler, of the 16th Bavarian (Reserve) Infantry Battalion, raved about traitors in a Berlin suburban hospital while recovering from the effects of mustard gas (but if it was mustard gas, why was he discharged after three weeks?). The men in his ward would not be taught how to win the war by "someone who had wrangled a cushy job in the battalion orderly room."

A RECRUIT in the Artists' Rifles, Rifleman Coward, had just gone into hospital at Gidea Park, Romford, where the battalion was training, because he broke his head slipping on a soapy duck board.

Benito Mussolini had come out of hospital at Milan and was writing angry newspaper articles, "his eyes popping out of his head" with emotion, over Caporetto.

NEWS FROM BERLIN

By IAN G. COLVIN

Hitler's Crucial Harvest

THE harvest is coming home in Germany. A bad harvest could cripple the Four Year Plan. This Berlin to visit friends. The terminus year, thanked be Wotan, there is a way, a tiny village, built in the record crop. Wheat, rye, oats, barley, settlement plans of Frederick the Great. Here pecked in the dusty leys, their ears are full to bursting. Great pessimists, then we shall see what lime grove, which loaded the air is afoot!

Even as we drive down the country roads, between poppy-sprinkled cornfields, the question of Marcellus occurs to me. (Hamlet, Act I, Scene I):

—tell me, he that knows, Why such impress of shipwrights, whose sore task, Does not divide the Sunday from the week?

What might be toward, that this sweaty haste Doth make the night joint labourer with the day?

Who is it, that can inform me?

Who indeed? The question of Marcellus has been put to the German Government by envoys extraordinary and simple journalists. That oracle of German intentions, the Foreign Ministry, smiles and smiles, and gives the reassuring answer.

In the stubble fields the thresher was making a deafening din. It continued until evening, when the ful to avoid "internecline" brawls; for they knew that such quarrels might become bloody and draw in blood. A lesson for ministers of State!

But Poles and Germans were carefree, came stealing out of the woods into the water meadows. Three Polish women, square-shouldered Slavs, their heads bound in bright kerchiefs, stood up afoot!

The thresher droned on as dark and piled bundles of rape seed into nest fell. The tireless Poles handled them. The rape seed harvest is the sheaves, the chaff, the straw; twice as good as last year, the Ger- and the straw stack grew immense, and Hull Harvest!

At ten o'clock the rape seed was all threshed, and a trim stack towered above us. The seed in sacks was piled into carts. The thoughtful estate-factor then produced "forty bottles of Ring-Bo-Ree" and the labourers drank their lager beer deeply, in the dark, by lanthorn light.

It would be nice to see the Leader come into the fields and bind a sheaf, as Mussolini does, I thought; but he is too obsessed with the fate of his three million Germans across the border.

The sheaves come lagging in slowly, in spite of night labour.

But, come what may, it is a good sight for tired eyes, this alien corn in golden billows, and the sturdy horses dragging it towards the granary. Down with Weltpolitik, Daladier's noble efforts to "have the franc." But it was no use. My man foreman told me, "Around rosy and golden in the sunset, and

Lieutenant Raymond Massey of the Canadian Infantry asked himself if there really was much point in backing up Admiral Koltchak.

IN the tumbling ruins of to-day some men and women worked hopefully for tomorrow. Through the worst straits of War the Imperial German Government did not withdraw the grant that enabled Albert Einstein to pursue his theories of Relativity.

Sir J. Henry Wood, that year, decided that British music held sufficient future for him to turn down an offer to conduct the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Ronald Colman, just invalidated out of the Service, was back touring in a play called "The Bubble," and Gracie Fields, at Long Eaton, sang "Sheikh of Alabama" in a revue called "Mr. Tower of London," which was not, they said, a patch on the Byng Boys.

And to tell to-morrow what it was all like, John Masefield was recording his impressions of Gallipoli and Augustus John, with grey hair tumbling incongruously over the collar of his major's uniform, went round the Western front to paint its horrors and its humours.

MR. WILLIAM MORRIS, busy turning out munitions in his Cowley workshop, had not forgotten the possibilities of a cheap car when the war should be over. Already in a new city, livelier than the wretched thing at least ten times every day. But why was it called Fascism? I had a heroic shot at an exact and lucid explanation, but sadly realised that my muddled achievement of Dictators and Totalitarian States was like defining a spade in terms of agricultural implements. Moreover, I became distinctly nervous when I got to the Totalitarian State!

I dived uncomfortably with my imagination for the next few minutes, hearing myself trying to answer the question with due reference to that ominous "exactly."

After all, I ought to know!

I certainly read or heard about the wretched thing at least ten times every day. But why was it called Fascism? I had a heroic shot at an exact and lucid explanation, but sadly realised that my muddled achievement of Dictators and Totalitarian States was like defining a spade in terms of agricultural implements. Moreover, I became distinguished nervous when I got to the Totalitarian State!

The Two "Thirds"

However, the old lady had given me an idea for the profitable employment of my enforced leisure.

Quickly I hunted out a sheet of paper and a pencil, and proceeded happily to set myself a newspaper general knowledge test. In other words, I proposed to dig out of my collection of newspapers terms which

I read in them day in and day out, transplant them to my nice, clean white paper, and see if I could write down exact and comprehensive explanations.

Alas! I have not yet finished my sad clambering out of the Slough of Horrified Humiliation!

I made a ghastly start with "The Third International." Certainly I knew two facts about it which were authentic and indisputable, but as one was that it had some connection with Russia, and the other that it had no connection with Rugby. I was not really very proud of them.

Tactfully I postponed the Third

International for further consideration, and immediately, in the neighbouring column, encountered "The Third Reich" with an arch leer on its exasperating features. Reich, I remembered, was the German word for an empire, but why the third

Reich? What had happened to the other two?

Now distinctly uneasy, I decided to postpone the Third Reich along with its international contemporary, childishly revenging myself with the contemplation of their horror at finding themselves abandoned in the

Gilt-Edged

I think it must have been the disapproving spirits of my Presbyterian ancestors, desirous of helping the Judgment to bring their wandering descendant back to the fold, which led me to pick up next a Conservative organ of the most dignified po-priety, and to turn them to the columns devoted to economics and finance.

There could really be no other explanations of why the first paragraph to hold my casually roving eyes should be entitled "Gilt-edged Securities". Reluctantly and with foreboding I wrote them down before the Third Reich. Had this been an intelligence test? It would doubtless have scored on my derisive refusal to believe that "gilt-edged" was here a literal description. But at last it was a knowledge test, and we did not help.

Deciding definitely that, after all finance was a highly specialised branch of knowledge, which could not reasonably be expected to have had any place in my humble life, I turned firmly over to the political pages, which I conscientiously scanned, trying all the while not to see the pushing headlines accimating M.

Daladier's noble efforts to "have the franc." But it was no use. My

HOW LITTLE YOU KNOW

RECENTLY, I found myself willing in the grape-like gloom of a remote Scottish village, the victim of the periodic eruptions of the family conscience over its solitary maiden aunt. Inspection of the sittingroom bookcase having revealed nothing more brightly entertaining than "Ministering Children," "Christy's Old Organ," "Jessie's First Prayer," and other such cherished prizes of a well-spent youth, I slipped furtively out and made desperate tracks for the High Street.

There, to the tune of ninepence for half-a-dozen weeklies, I encouraged the flaunting depravity of the local confectioners, who, it appeared, coveted the proceeds from the sale of Sunday papers more than he feared the Judgment's scandalised neighbours sternly predicted.

I returned home with my booty, and settled down with it in happy relief, to while away the next few hours. However, the Judgment must have decided to descend that day, and, for my brief share in the un-hallowed transactions, to include me in its sphere of operations, for I had only read as far as page two of my first paper when the trouble began. And, like all other tragedies, it began simply enough with a dear old lady.

The Old Lady's Fasclam

It seemed, according to paragraph on page two, that this innocent originator of my subsequent humiliation had much mystified and disconcerted her family by stoutly declaring herself to be a firm believer in Fascism, while mystification and distress were happily lightened by the discovery that she imagined Fascism to be something for making trains run on time.

I smiled a little smile of tenderly indulgent superiority, and was about to go on to page three when the movement of my head was arrested as if with the jerk of instantaneous brakes, and my smile became suddenly fixed and glassy. What was that I had heard? A plaintive voice asking, "Well, then, what exactly is Fascism?"

Japanese Capture Key City To Canton Rly.

According to Chinese reports heavy losses were inflicted on the Japanese in the battle for possession of Tamsui and Yim-potow. Chinese reports state that the most vigorous fighting in the Blas Bay area is progressing in this sector, and claim that a large force of Japanese were completely surrounded near Yim-potow.

The Chinese now admit that Aotow, on the eastern side of Blas Bay, is in complete possession of the Japanese. The defenders were forced to evacuate the town, which has a population of about 6,000, owing to intensive Japanese naval bombardment.

Heavy Chinese reinforcements are being rushed to the Tamsui area by every conceivable form of locomotion, including afoot, from Wuchow and Pingshan.

It is reported that the main Canton-Waichow highway, which links up with the Hongkong frontier, is completely choked by lorries and buses carrying Chinese troops to the war zone.

Over two hundred bombs were dropped on Pingshan yesterday, and the city is almost completely wrecked. Military observers in Canton believe that the Japanese are attempting to drive from Tamsui to the railway at Pingwu, slightly north of the border town of Shumchun. Pingshan and Wanglong lie on this route.

CHINESE RETIRE NORTH

Canton, Oct. 14. After heavy fighting yesterday, the Chinese troops at Tamsui have taken up new positions north of the town, where they are redoubling their efforts to resist the invaders.

Heavy casualties are said to have been inflicted upon the Japanese advancing on Tamsui at 11 a.m. yesterday when they were waylaid by Chinese troops at Putien, lying between Tamsui and Aotow. However, Japanese reinforcements were immediately rushed up and the battle raged with increasing severity.

Fighting continued till 2 p.m. when under the severe bombing of a large squadron of Japanese planes the Chinese troops withdrew to the north of Tamsui to avoid unnecessary losses.

It is understood that the Japanese column at Tamsui aims at cutting the Canton-Kowloon Railway between Shumchun and Pinghu.

Another Japanese column in the Pingshan-Nimshan sector is driving toward Wuchow, from where it hopes to advance to Cheungmuktau and cut the railway line there. This column is understood to be still meeting stiff Chinese resistance around Pingshan and Nimshan.

The Japanese are said to be continuing their efforts to land on the Swatow-Chaoching coast. An attempt to land at Nanking in Tenkou by about 200 Japanese in more than motor boats was frustrated by the Chinese yesterday. Over 100 shells were fired by Japanese warships off the coast to cover the attack.

WILL LIVE IN H.K.

NOW working on her twenty-first romantic novel, a young English writer, whose love stories are widely read by women, will arrive in Hongkong this week to live here with her naval officer husband.

She is Marjorie Price, 31-year-old author of "The Mantle of Saltash," and "Pandora Dances."

Her husband, Lieut. F. C. V. Brightman, arrived in Hongkong last week. Mrs. Brightman is remaining in Singapore for a fortnight to join H.M.S. Westcott.

"My latest novel is about life at Malta, where I spent several months while my husband was stationed there," the well-known authoress said recently.

Before she married, Mrs. Brightman had had about five novels published.

"Most of my books are 'heat' stories," she said with a smile. "And it is great fun for me to watch typists and shop girls eagerly reading them in the buses and tubes at home."

Mrs. Brightman says she finds life as a naval wife eminently suitable for her work. A novelist can work anywhere and if she has the opportunity of seeing so much of the world as a naval wife invariably has, she always has new settings for stories. She left England to marry her husband in Burnham, when he was stationed there.

After leaving home to dance in musical comedy, she wrote her first novel, "The Mantle of Saltash," to amuse herself.

PROTECTING JAPANESE IN COLONY

Police Commissioner

THE "TELEGRAPH" is authoritatively informed that a warning has been issued to all Japanese subjects residing in Hongkong to be cautious in view of the possibility of anti-Japanese feeling arising amongst the Chinese in the Colony.

The warning to the Japanese was conveyed by their Consul General, Mr. T. Nakamura.

It is understood from authoritative sources that Mr. Nakamura interviewed the Hon. T. H. King, Commissioner of Police, on Wednesday, and requested that precautionary measures be taken for the complete protection of Japanese residents in Hongkong.

It is understood that the Police Department had already increased the normal guards which have been protecting Japanese business establishments, hotels and residences, before Mr. Nakamura's approach was made.

Mr. Nakamura has also addressed an official note to the Government of Macao, requesting the Portuguese authorities to take appropriate measures for protecting Japanese subjects residing there.

Plot To Seize Power In Sofia

LONDON, Oct. 13. The Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Belgrade reported to-day that a plot had been hatched to overthrow the Government of Sofia. He added that many members of a Macedonian secret revolutionary organization had been arrested, and ordered to leave the country as a result of General Feofan's assassination.

It is officially announced that a band of the extremists, hide-outs had reached in many areas. The police were patrolling the streets before dawn.—United Press.

BRITAIN MAY SEND MORE WARSHIPS TO CHINA

Chamberlain Returning To London this Week

Special to "Telegraph"

(Telecommunication Ordinance 1930. Copyright by United Press. Received 6.30 a.m. Published 10.30 a.m.)

LONDON, Oct. 13.

THE DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT OF THE "DAILY EXPRESS" PREDICTED TO-DAY THAT THE CABINET MIGHT DECIDE THIS WEEK-END TO STRENGTHEN THE BRITISH NAVAL FORCES IN FAR EASTERN WATERS.

It is understood, states the Correspondent, that Mr. Chamberlain is curtailing his vacation in Scotland for the second time since the beginning of September.

He will probably return to London to initiate a big-scale armament drive and at the same time consider suggestions that the China Station squadron should be substantially increased in view of the Japanese invasion of Kwangtung province.

The present British China Squadron, exclusive of Yangtse River gunboats, consists of the 5th Cruiser Squadron, comprising six cruisers; the aircraft carrier Eagle, the 8th Destroyer Flotilla, comprising nine destroyers; five vessels—H.M. ships Folkestone, Sandwich, Falmouth, Grimsby and Lowestoft—employed on patrol duties; the submarines Odin, Otus, Olympus, Orpheus, Perseus, Parthian, Phoenix, Pandora, Proteus, Rainbow, Rover, Regent, Regulus, Grampus and Rorqual; five West River gunboats, and H.M. ships Thracian and Thanet, of the local Defence Flotilla.

Recently two speedy motor torpedo boats, the first of a flotilla of similar craft, were added to the Station.

With docking accommodation now available at Singapore and the easing of tension in Europe, the "Daily Express" envisages the possible despatch of one or two battleships to the Far East in addition to other smaller craft. The Cabinet, at the meeting to be called by the Premier, will have placed before it proposals for a great speed-up in British armaments, particular emphasis being laid upon fighting airplanes.

In addition, it is expected that the controversial conscription issue will be fully investigated before Parliament meets again next month.—United Press.

MUSOLINI BELIEVES JAPAN WILL WIN

Rome, Oct. 13. It is learned that on receiving the mission of visiting Japanese journalists to-day Signor Mussolini expressed the opinion that he was confident the Japanese would be victorious in the war in China and would eventually banish Communism from the Far East.

"A victory by Japan will permit that country to carry out the development which is a necessity for a strong, second and meritorious people," Il Duce is reported to have said.—United Press.

Anglo-Italian Parleys Resumed in Rome

ROME, Oct. 13.

Resuming negotiations for a quick settlement of the Spanish problem, Lord Perth, British Ambassador to Rome, unexpectedly called on Count Ciano, the Italian Foreign Minister.

It is assumed that Lord Perth had received London instructions regarding the new aspect of the problem.

Coincident with the visit was the publication of the list of Black-shirt casualties in Spain, and there are indications that Signor Mussolini is displeased with the effect of the re-

H.M.S. Rodney, which may soon be seen in Hongkong under the proposed suggestion that Britain's Fleet in the Far East be increased.

NEW CRISIS IN EUROPE

Czech-Hungarian Parleys Cease

KOMAROM, Oct. 13.

CAUSING A GRAVE CRISIS in the negotiations between the Carpatho-Ruthenian delegates and the Hungarian authorities, official despatches have disclosed a reign of terror in Ruthenia by organised gangs equipped with foreign arms and led by Hungarian reserve officers.

It is officially reported that there has been sporadic fighting and at least two Czechs have been killed, while many Hungarians have been arrested.

The Czech Government has invoked martial law.

It is also reported that terrorism is rife in Bratislava. A number of Hungarians have been arrested and charged with terrorist activity.

At Mukacevo, the centre of the Ruthenian terrorist outbreak, there is "murder, manslaughter, robbery and crimes endangering the public" according to an official description.

Meanwhile, the Czech-Hungarian relations are very strained.—United Press.

HUNGARIANS DEPART

Budapest, Oct. 13.

Negotiations between Hungary and Czechoslovakia were broken off at 7.12 p.m. this evening. The meeting lasted only five minutes, and the Hungarian delegation returned to the Hungarian side of the town of Komarom, and boarded a steamer.

Mr. Koloman de Kanya, the Hungarian Foreign Minister, issued a statement emphasising that the Czech counter-proposals—referring to the new frontier—differed to such an extent from the Hungarian viewpoint, and there was such a wide gulf between the stand-points of the two delegations concerning fundamental principles of the new settlement, that they cannot hope to be bridged through the present negotiations.

The statement adds that Hungary will request the speediest possible settlement of its territorial claims against Czechoslovakia by the four powers who are signatories to the Munich protocol.—Reuter.

CZECHS REFUSE TO GIVE WAY

Budapest, Oct. 13.

Reports from Komarom state that in a two-hour session the Czechs were unexpectedly firm concerning their negotiations with Hungary over minority rights, an attitude which is attributed to the German and Rumanian assurances of support.

It is understood that the Czechs offered to cede an area inhabited by more than 100,000 Hungarians. However, the Czechs are adamant in their refusal to surrender Bratislava, Kosice and other cities.

Meanwhile, Hungarian extremists are urging force. One of the newspapers observes: "We will obtain majority in Czechoslovakia even if we have to do it with our bare hands."—United Press.

Ten Million Gallons Of Petrol Afire

LINDEN, Alabama, Oct. 13.

After an 18-hours fight, firemen to-day extinguished a blaze which fed almost 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline, naphtha and kerosene oil. It is estimated that the damage exceeds $500,000.00.—United Press.

London Rail Strike Spreads

London, Oct. 13.

A strike is spreading among the London, Midland and Scottish Railway freight workers, which threatens a serious interference with Britain's food supply.

The strike started because a ticket-collector refused to join the Union.—United Press.

Rapid Japanese Drive to C.K.R.

Chinese Ask Consular Body for Assistance

IT IS OFFICIALLY DENIED THAT THE JAPANESE HAVE ATTEMPTED TO MAKE ANY ATTEMPT TO LAND TROOPS ANYWHERE IN THE CANTON DELTA, ON THE OTHER SIDE OF HONGKONG FROM WHERE THEY ARE NOW OPERATING.

Unofficial reports state that the Kwangtung authorities have approached the Consular Body in Shamen, with a request that the Japanese be asked to arrange that Pakhoktong, Lingnan University and the French Catholic Cathedral in Canton should be declared as Safety Zones, in which non-combatants could seek refuge.

The Kwangtung Provincial Government and Canton Municipal Government are removing the archives from Canton this afternoon. Reuter reports that the temporary capital will be Yangtze, in northern Kwangtung, along the Canton-Hankow Railway.

Government and Municipal officials will, it is believed, leave by special train this afternoon.

EARLIER NEWS OF S. CHINA FIGHTING:

Jill Adam says we're still

IT is a melancholy fact, but women are really very like their mothers.

The most determined modern women conceal beneath their iron exteriors a melting tenderness which, this year, is definitely expressed by the most sentimental underclothes we have had for a long time.

Look at this clothes-line, for example, supported on one side by the completest Edwardian mamma, and opposite by her contemporary descendant—you and me, that is, in our high-necked chiffon blouse.

Not only our chiffon blouses are high-necked either. The big surprise of the recent lingerie-buying has been the number of high-necked nightgowns and even cami-knicks that have been sold.

EVERY so often you get a real change in the underclothes mode; thus now, after years of straight-topped, shoulder-strapped chemises, slips and cami-knickers, you get them high-necked or brassiere-topped.

And as you see, the influence of our mothers is felt in trans-

Fried Sandwiches

LEFT-OVER slices of bread, buttered or unbuttered, can be turned into delicious "fries" for supper. Many picnic sandwiches can be treated similarly if there are any left over.

Ham or tongue sandwiches are ideal for frying. Put a small piece of butter into the pan and make it smoking hot. Then add the sandwiches and fry them fairly quickly till golden brown outside and piping hot through.

Brush over fruit- and nut sandwiches with a little milk and dip them in castor sugar before frying. It is easy to turn slices of bread or bread and butter into suitable sandwiches for frying. Any sort of filling that is too soft will do.

Sandwiches filled with mixtures of fish, cheese, or egg should be arranged on a plate over a pan of boiling water, covered with bacon and steamed rather than fried. Be sure to make them thoroughly hot, and serve them at once, because they lose their heat quickly.

A suggestion to show how anyone who is clever with her needle can make an ordinary opera top into one of the new high necks. To slip on camisoles just add shaped shoulder straps, in net or lace. If you can't match the original fabric, cut out a little under the arms, and there you are. Join the straps on to the original top with fagoting or some other lingerie stitch.

Soups For All Sorts Of Days

Soups for Chilly Days

WITH the temperature ever changing, it is difficult to arrange meals in advance. But there are times, when this has to be done, and should a hot weather luncheon be planned for a day which proves chilly, the simplest way out of the difficulty is to give a warming soup, and then proceed with the arranged cold menu.

Spinach Soup

Cook a heaped quart of prepared spinach till tender in 3 gills of boiling water, to which pinches of soda and sugar have been added. Drain, chop, and rub through a sieve; then add the puree thus obtained to a pint of white stock, and bring to the boil. In a lined saucepan, melt 1 oz. butter, stir in 1 oz. flour, cook a little, then slowly add the mixed spinach and stock. When the soup has thickened, stir in  $\frac{1}{2}$  pint milk, season with pepper and salt, and serve very hot.

Mushroom Soup

Peel, clean, and chop  $\frac{1}{2}$  lb mushrooms; cook them for 20 minutes in a quart of white stock, and rub through a sieve. Meanwhile cool 4 oz. small sage in  $\frac{1}{2}$  pint boiling water for half an hour, and add to the sliced mushrooms and stock.

Note.—This is a splendid way of using up your surplus supplies of dried mushrooms and stock.

Bring to the boil together, cook for lettuce in the garden.

Lettuce Soup

Well wash two heads of lettuce, remove the outer discoloured leaves, and finely chop the remainder.

Lightly cook a tablespoon of minced onion in a tablespoon of butter, for 5 minutes, then add the lettuce, 3 gills white stock, and 2 tablespoons well washed rice. Cook till the rice is tender, stir in  $\frac{1}{2}$  pint milk, with a slightly beaten egg yolk, pepper, and salt. Thoroughly reheat for half an hour, and add to the without boiling, and serve.

Note.—This is a splendid way of using up your surplus supplies of dried mushrooms and stock.

New Wools Give Marled Effect

THE busy knitter misses much if she doesn't know about the new wools, including the crinkled kinds which give a marl effect. Other new wools, which have the effect of a fancy tweed when knitted up, are in true heather colours.

In direct contrast, come those yarns which mix artificial silk with wool. There is no lustre in them, and the result is a suede effect which, in mist colours, is especially attractive for cardigans and coats.

Camel hair and wool make another useful coat mixture.

Untarnishable metal threads

twisted into strands of wool give a soft sparkle to frocks and suits.

Hammocks

BUT choosing wool for a jumper is not nearly such a problem as washing them. They need delicate care and handling, and their drying is perhaps more important than their washing. To leave the jumper lying on a cloth to dry slowly is one way.

Of course, no one would peg up a newly washed jumper.

Another excellent way is to use a specially designed hammock which unfolds to about a yard in length. It measures two feet wide and is made from a light, durable mesh in which rum is crocheted with cotton threads.

With this hammock suspended between the backs of two chairs, the most delicate woollen garment will not stretch as it dries. In fact, drying is facilitated with the air circulating under as well as over it.

Painting A Brooch

A HANDBRICK which is easy, fascinating, and inexpensive is the painting of jewellery.

The various pieces, each stamped with flower designs, include rings, bracelets and brooches, some with antique finishes, others with platinum effects, but most of them are gilt.

It would be interesting to know how different women plan their underclothing. It seems to me one needs two kinds; to wear under sports clothes, tweeds, and in the country, the easy-to-wash, easy-to-wear woven kind that can be bought so cheaply and charmingly nowadays.

For town or to wear under silk or transparent dresses—"for best" in fact, slip and knickers, or cami-knickers in crepe, washing satin, chiffon or nylon.

Some women will have more of one kind, some of another; but it is pleasant to have always in stock one or two sets of really nine underclothes so that you wouldn't mind being run over by a bus and then taken to hospital in them!

AND I want to make a plea for a bit more originality in your choice of fabrics and colours for lingerie.

The simplest nightgown, made in black and plum or purple chiffon, looks rather exciting; or choose candy striped chiffon, or flowered voile, or even fine dotted swiss muslin. There's nothing newer, or easier to wash than the cottons, especially voile.

Under the new full-skirted dresses there's really no reason either for not making fine cotton underclothes as grandmother did, and getting away with it. But under anything slim fitting, crepe and washing satin are best.

The simple, unpretentious materials are always smarter than cheap qualities in "posh" fabrics; and even expensive lingerie houses are realising the possibilities of such fabrics as chintz lined with bright towelling for dressing-gowns. Ordinary flannel in well-combined colours has long been smarter than shiny fabrics for house coats and dressing-gowns.

Dr. Maberley
says:-

Radio is converting us into a nation of listeners, and in some measure making us less sociable.

"There is far too much listening nowadays, and whilst there is much to be said for a good listener, it is far more advantageous, both from a personal and social point of view, that people should take some part in the life and interests around them.

"Before the advent of radio people used to call on one another and find fresh interests in discussions and conversations with their neighbours.

"But to-day they sit at home listening to lectures and speeches, and find little opportunity to express their own views on these subjects."

SCOUTMASTER'S ALLEGED MERCY MURDER PLEA

Story Of Drive With Nurses After Mothers' Death

A 29-year-old Scoutmaster who was alleged to have said that his mother asked him to end her sufferings faced a charge of murder at Torquay recently.

It was stated that the man, Norman John Walter Smith, walked into the police station on August 28 and said he had killed his mother, Mrs. Alice Maud Smith, at their home at Hill Park Road, Torquay.

Mr. G. R. Paling, prosecuting, said Mrs. Smith lived apart from her husband, Smith lived with her and supported her with the salary he received as a solicitor's clerk.

On Friday, August 26, his two women for a ride in his motor-car.

Mr. Paling said that when Smith was searched a document purporting to be his will was found on him. It contained the clause: "I desire my body to be cremated with that of my darling mother, and the ashes to be thrown in the sea."

Mr. Paling said: "That document was dated August 20, the day he left his employment. I suggest that he formed on the Friday the intention to commit this offence and possibly some other offence."

Police-Sergeant Taylor said Smith appropriated some of the firm's money.

Smith was committed for trial at the next Devon Assizes.

DISGUSTING

"It is disgusting to see a girl of 15 with her face made up like that. Take her home now and see that she washes her face and bring her back later."

The West London magistrate, Mr. Paul Bennett, said this to the father of a girl accused of insulting behaviour, who appeared heavily rouged and powdered.

She returned without make-up and the case was adjourned.

Drivers "Steam-Bound"

Motorists complained of being "steam-bound" during an electrical storm in which the temperature tumbled 30 degrees in 15 minutes.

Drivers said that because of the rapid drop in temperature, steam rising from the highways was so dense it cut off their vision.

ROTHSCHILD RANSOM: HALF A BUSINESS

TURNING down £120,000 offered as "ransom" for Baron Louis Rothschild, imprisoned in Vienna, Germany's Nazis are now demanding not merely money but a foothold in Czechoslovakia.

They want control of the Wittkowitz works, the Czechs' biggest industrial concern, 51 per cent. of whose shares are held by the Austrian Rothschilds.

To this end they have sent a lawyer, Dr. Erich Fuchrer, to Paris to negotiate with the French branch of the Rothschild family, as well as with Baron Louis' brother, Baron Alphonse Rothschild.

Baron Louis, imprisoned by the Gestapo soon after Hitler seized Austria, should have been freed a fortnight ago.

The Austrian Rothschilds offered £120,000 for his release while the French family also declared itself willing to make a considerable contribution.

But this is not enough for the Nazis.

They see in the possession of the Wittkowitz shares an economic foothold—and an important one—in Czechoslovakia.

The other 49 per cent. of the shares are held by Zivno, the big Czech Hollywood's latest diet craze is carrot juice and spinach juice. This tells how to—

PREPARE YOUR CARROT DIET

Carrots are chopped up as fine as possible until they are almost mashed, then put in a muslin bag and the juice squeezed into a cup. Nothing is added.

Young carrots give the most juice, which is extremely sweet.

It is drunk as often as fancied in whatever quantity.

When the stars are on the 1 lb. a day reducing diet, they take nothing but vegetable and fruit juices. It is claimed that these are so sustaining that solid food is unnecessary. Vegetable broths are allowed as a change.

A LIVENER

On the keep-your-weight-as-it-is diet, carrot juice is taken as a morning livener and at any other time during the day. It is often served as a pre-lunch cocktail, is supposed to clean up the bloodstream and to be very effective for dealing with puffy eyes and too many chins.

In addition, Dr. Benjamin-Gaylord Hauser, dietician to the stars, who started the carrot cure, prescribes an individual diet for each person's needs.

Wholemeal flour is used and either raw sugar or honey.

Potatoes must be baked. Meat is allowed once a day with all kinds of clear soups. The chief dishes in the diet are salads, vegetables and fruits—especially oranges.

Steamed puddings and creamy pastries become once-in-a-while treats, and drinks are allowed in strict moderation.

Japanese Enter Strategic City

Railway Gateway Falls After Severe Fighting

DRIVING INLAND FROM HACHUNG AND PAKKONG, TWO BIAS BAY COAST TOWNS WHERE LANDINGS WERE EFFECTED ON WEDNESDAY, THE JAPANESE SOUTH CHINA EXPEDITIONARY FORCE ENTERED THE IMPORT-ANT CITY OF TAMSHUI THIS MORNING.

Tamshui, which is only twenty miles from the Chinese section of the Kowloon-Canton Railway, fell shortly before dawn, it is reported.

The city is about ten miles inland from Bias Bay, and is reached from Hachung through a fairly wide valley between two chains of mountains.

Tamshui is on the east bank of the Taikong River, which the Japanese must attempt to cross in their drive on the railway. It is about 18 miles from the British frontier.

It is reported that vigorous fighting proceeded throughout the night at Yimpatow, about three-quarters of a mile east of Tamshui.

Japanese artillery was brought into play for the first time since the invasion commenced, and a long-range bombardment was carried out by Japanese naval ships.

Tamshui was almost completely wrecked when the Japanese entered. For 72 hours it has been subjected to almost incessant bombings by squadrons of Japanese machines, which have made Tamshui and Walchow, another Japanese objective, their principal targets.

According to Chinese reports heavy losses were inflicted on the Japanese in the battle for possession of Tamshui and Yimpatow. Chinese reports state that the most vigorous fighting in the Bias Bay area is progressing in this sector, and claim that a large force of Japanese were completely surrounded near Yimpatow.

The Chinese now admit that Aotow, on the eastern side of Bias Bay, is in complete possession of the Japanese. The defenders were forced to evacuate the town, which has a population of about 6,000, owing to intensive Japanese naval bombardment.

Heavy Chinese reinforcements are being rushed to the Tamshui area by every conceivable form of locomotion, including afoot, from Walchow and Pingshan.

It is reported that the main Canton-Waichow highway, which links up with the Hongkong frontier, is completely choked by lorries and buses carrying Chinese troops to the war zone.

Over two hundred bombs were dropped on Pingshan yesterday, and the city is almost completely wrecked.

Military observers in Canton believe that the Japanese are attempting to drive from Tamshui to the railway at Pingwu, slightly north of the border town of Shumchun. Pingshan and Wangkong lie on this route.

CHINESE RETIRE NORTH

Canton, Oct. 14. After heavy fighting yesterday, the Chinese troops at Tamshui have taken up new positions north of the town, where they are redoubling their efforts to resist the invaders.

Heavy casualties are said to have been inflicted upon the Japanese advancing on Tamshui at 11 a.m. yesterday when they were waylaid by Chinese troops at Putien, lying between Tamshui and Aotow. However, Japanese reinforcements were immediately rushed up and the battle raged with increasing severity.

Fighting continued till 2 p.m. when under the severe bombing of a large squadron of Japanese planes the Chinese troops withdrew to the north of Tamshui to avoid unnecessary losses.

It is understood that the Japanese column at Tamshui aims at cutting the Canton-Kowloon Railway between Shumchun and Pinghu.

Another Japanese column is driving toward Walchow, from where it hopes to advance to Chingmuktau and cut the railway line there. This column is understood to be still meeting stiff Chinese resistance around Pingshan and Nimsian.

The Japanese are said to be continuing their efforts to land on the Swatow-ChaoYang coast. An attempt to land at Nankong in Tientsin by about 200 Japanese in more than motor boats was frustrated by the Chinese yesterday. Over 100 shells were fired by Japanese warships of the coast to cover the attempted landing.

Japanese planes twice flew over Swatow yesterday, but did not drop any bombs. Despite the tension, the populace there remains calm.

More than ten Japanese warships have been sighted off the Swatow Island.—Central News.

PALESTINE DISORDERS SPREADING

siderable garrison such as Jaffa, Tel Aviv, Haifa and Jerusalem. Life has become insecure in most of the smaller towns, as recent events in the town of Tiberias have clearly demonstrated.

The Arab insurgents have already obtained control over the entire northern part of Palestine including Hebron, while the so-called terror triangle near Nablus and Tulkarm has, despite the draconic measures adopted by the British Government, become a place of permanent disorders.

It is now admitted that repressive measures were taken without the precaution of having sufficient troops to insure their enforcement.

Great importance here is attached to an ultimatum sent by the Arab Committee of Defence to Dr. Weissmann, Zionist leader. The Jewish press calls this ultimatum a challenge to the British Empire whereas the Arab news papers regard it as a proof of power wielded by the Arab irregulars.

The news has just reached here from Jerusalem of a severe clash between British troops and Arabs which occurred yesterday evening on the road from Jerusalem to Hebron.

Three soldiers were wounded. One aeroplane, included in the military reinforcements rushed to the scene, is reported to have been shot down although the two occupants escaped unhurt. A number of Arabs were killed and wounded.—Trans-Ocean.

DISORDERS SPREAD

Jerusalem, Oct. 13.

Following assassinations and sporadic fighting, disorders have spread in the Holy Land, and one Arab in Jerusalem was shot to-day. Four Jews were injured when a truck was bombed at Haifa.

Guards at the Gaza airport, returning snipers' fire, killed one sniper, while a British Lieutenant was wounded at Haifa.

An exploding hand-mine on the Lydd-Halifa railway wounded one Briton.—United Press.

WOMEN BECOME MINORITY

Geneva, Oct. 13.

The Jewish agency in Geneva has declared that it cannot agree to any proposal to make Jews into the status of a minority in an Arab State in Palestine.

The Agency thanked the British Government for its efforts to put down terrorism in Palestine, and asked the British Government to seek an equitable settlement which would safeguard the rights of Jews as well as Arabs.

A London message says that the High Commissioner for Palestine left Southampton to-day by air on his return to Jerusalem.—Reuter Bulletin.

FRESH INSTRUCTIONS

Rome, Oct. 13. Acting on fresh instructions from London, Lord Perth again visited Count Ciano this evening to discuss Anglo-Italian affairs. It is understood that the object of the conversation was to remove the particular obstacle holding up progress towards the ratification of the Anglo-Italian agreement.

The talks are proceeding favourably.

LEGIONNAIRES IN CADIZ

Gibraltar, Oct. 13. Several hundred Italian legionnaires of the Black Arrow Division, including officers, arrived at Cadiz from various eastern ports to-day, chiefly from the Ebro and Salamanca sectors, according to reports from Cadiz.

On the way to the coast the troops stopped at Seville where they were enthusiastically greeted by thousands of people.

The troops embarked at Cadiz in four Italian steamers, while thousands of people, including heads of representative bodies of Nationalist Spain, assembled on the quay-side to bid farewell to the legionnaires.—Reuter.

Big Decrease In Germany's Unemployed

Berlin, Oct. 13. The number of Germany's unemployed excluding Austria fell to the unprecedentedly low figure of 156,000 in September, while the number of employed increased to 20,850,000, showing an increase of 1,200,000 over last year.

It is stated that many Sudeten refugees were given work. In the metal industries the great demand for labour necessitated the employment of persons never before employed as ordinary workmen.

The number of women employed in September increased 25,000 most in the textile and foodstuff industries.

The number of unemployed in Austria in September fell below 100,000 for the first time, which is one-sixth the number of unemployed at the time of the anschluss.—Reuter Special.

HONGKONG'S HOUSING PROBLEMS: EFFORT TO SUGGEST SOLUTION

necessary to civilization and these are supplied, largely, by the "new" industries. To meet the demand, the factory system has made its appearance in Hongkong, but at present the majority of such concerns are small. The more obvious factory sites have already been taken up by the major industries, and the newer concerns must settle in areas already used for housing and the homesteads. It is questionable whether the establishment of a new factory in a built-up area will provide work for the unemployed in that area or attract additional population. Where there is no room for the existing population to spread out, the existing population of existing houses by factories is bound to increase accordingly.

10. Unfortunately these new industries' concerns are too small to build factories away from the populated areas. They cannot afford to lay-out capital to provide housing for their workpeople, and, even if they could, where can they go? Before they can build their houses, not only good cheap building land, with room for expansion and for housing, but adequate communications and public services such as water, light and power, drainage, and sewage disposal. If these industries are not to be permitted to add to existing overpopulation, it is essential that they should be encouraged to establish themselves elsewhere, and the necessary provision be made for them. The cost of providing for them may be prohibitive for one small firm but not for a group of firms. This is, too, must not be a slight against the immediate advantages which may appear negligible, but against the ultimate objective, which, on achievement, may make the initial outlay itself appear negligible. Once the nucleus of a new community is established it will attract further population, which can then "inhibit" the "industrial" character of local industries will be favourable to decentralization. There will be no big works to move and no expensive machinery to be transferred. All they want is a market for their wares, it is certain that the question is to be decided, the obvious policy is to facilitate the erection of factories in less densely developed areas and not to wait until they have established themselves in Victoria and Kowloon, whence their removal will be both difficult and expensive.

11. The type of house in Hongkong occupied by the poor has been briefly mentioned. It is however necessary to consider it in detail, to find out its defects and their bearing on the housing question generally. Does it provide accommodation suited to the needs and circumstances of those for whom it is built? Is it the right way? Is it effective? Is it too costly or merely badly planned or both? What are the needs and circumstances of the majority of the population? An answer to the last question is a necessary preliminary to the consideration of the others.

12. Throughout the world it has always been recognized, and still is, that the family is the social unit. In some countries, particularly China, families are so strong that the term "family" includes all blood relations. The "family" is almost synonymous with the "clan." For practical purposes however, the clan is too loose a term, and too variable a quantity, to be of much use, and the term "family" is applied only to parents and their direct offspring. As soon as one of the children marries a new family is created. To provide houses suitable for family life it is necessary to know the normal size of families. On this point, unfortunately, no figures are available. In England, statistics show that about 76% of families consist of between two and five people. Families exceeding six are less than 10% of the total. The general impression amongst Europeans is that the Chinese family is large. Although the birth rate is undoubtedly high, the infant death rate is also high and, in consequence, the actual number of living children is probably very little greater per family than in England. Allowing for the fact that, throughout the world the poorer classes tend to have larger families than the wealthier classes, it does not seem unreasonable to presume that the average Chinese family is five or six. (See also Paragraph 42.)

13. The next point for consideration is the normal earnings of the Chinese family and how much of those earnings can be allocated for rent. In Appendix III are given the normal rates of wages for different classes of workers. The wages for skilled workers vary between $30 and $70 per month and, for unskilled workers, between $15 and $24 per month. Family factory workers earn from $8 to $24 per month. Among the poorer classes both husband and wife usually work, though their combined earnings would, if on full time employment, range from $21 to $94 per month. As most of the poorer classes are casual labourers, it is probable that, amongst those normally employed, not more than forty days work per month could be called normal, and average. Proportionately therefore combined earnings would drop to between $14 and $61 per month. When both husband and wife are unskilled casual labourers, as they generally are, a normal wage level of between $14 and $30 per month is the most which can be expected.

MAXIMUM RENTS

14. What are the maximum rents which can be expected from such income? It is a generally accepted principle that rent should not exceed one-fifth of family income. In exceptional cases, where cost of transport, food, etc. is cheap, a rent equal to one-quarter of family earnings might be permissible. For the poorer working classes of Hongkong therefore rents should be between $3 and $6 per month and, at worst, should not exceed $4 to $7.50 per month. On average the maximum rent should not exceed $5 per month. There are, however, two other factors to be taken into consideration; namely, the number of mouths to be fed out of family income and the cost of a house. If insufficient money is available the poorer Chinese normally spend $5 or $6 per month on food. It can be safely assumed therefore that food of satisfactory quality and quantity cannot be obtained at less than $4 per head per month. (The Society for the Protection of the Poor, Hongkong, has four children, the older children will often be earning say sufficient to provide themselves with food. It might also be taken as a working basis that, where family income is less than $4 per month, rent of any sort is beyond their means.

15. For the purpose of housing it seems advisable to classify the population under three heads.

Class A.—Those who can remunerate private enterprise for housing accommodation.

Class B.—Those who can only afford to pay sufficient rent to provide a rate of interest insufficient to attract private enterprise.

Class C.—Those who can only be housed by the State.

16. No figures are available from which the numbers in each class could be estimated with any degree of accuracy.

17. Criticism of existing accommodation can now be based on certain known facts or reasonable assumptions. They are:

(a) The regard for family size amongst the Chinese is exceedingly strong, and housing to be satisfactory, must cater for family life.

(b) The normal size of family can be assumed to be between

(c) The normal Chinese earnings are fairly steady rent between $4 and $7.50 per month per family.

20. Before proceeding to consider possible improvements it would be advisable first, to give attention to the most basic needs of the poor, those best suited to the Chinese poorer classes.

21. In Hongkong the demand for building land has led to the erection of flats. Approximately 43% of Hongkong tenements are three storied height and 57% are two storied. In Kowloon the development is of much later date than Victoria and where, owing to wider roads, increased maximum building heights are possible, the demand for building land is less, rents high. One would imagine that landlords would for the most part develop their land to the maximum intensity permitted, as they have a large number of units to let. This is not the case. The narrow and deep type of room renders privacy possible only at the expense of free circulation of light and air. The room can only be divided by means of cubicles; the walls of these cubicles are often built right up to the ceiling, as all light and air would otherwise be excluded. For family life there are many objections to flats. There are, however, according to the Census Report, some 10,000 families in Hongkong, of whom 10,000 are either single or widowed. Although many are no doubt living with their families a large number will be living independently. If multi-occupancy flats are to be erected, it would be necessary to have a separate compartment for each family. They are therefore merely fixed screens and the whole floor is virtually one room. In a place like Hongkong, where infectious diseases and epidemics are prevalent, the spread of disease is facilitated by such an arrangement. Whilst the arrangement permits of through ventilation it is only in very hot weather that windows are kept open, and then only at the wish of the occupants of the outer compartments. The occupants of the inner cubicles can have no air in their room.

22. Another fault with the present type of tenement is that it is bigger than the absolute minimum requirements of a family, i.e., in view of normal poverty it is bigger than the normal family can afford. When the whole floor is occupied by one family means, and when the law permits the floor to be occupied by a greater number than the family consists of, it is only natural that the spare floor space should be rented out, and at a profit. This situation is systematically established and, with the result that rents are increased for such accommodation as the poor require, or alternatively, the area is reduced for which the poor can afford to pay.

23. The question of the mixing or segregation of different social grades is a subject of considerable importance in England. Among the Chinese the distinction between classes is not so strictly regarded as in Europe. Differences of class are often very great, but they do not engender sharp social distinctions which prevent the mixing of classes. Poor and wealthy frequently live side by side in similar houses. In Hongkong it is recognized that within a grouping of congenital elements is a proper object of planning the complete segregation of large blocks of different social grounds. Although social snobbery is to be deplored, a complete lack of class consciousness can give rise to a social snobbery. No man can be regarded with equanimity. In Hongkong there are many people occupying flats in the congested areas, who could well afford to move to the districts, and pay rents for much better houses than they now occupy. Their presence in the congested areas reduces the amount of available land, and, as the poorer classes, forces up rents, and increases the obstacles in the way of enforcement of the law against over-crowding. The lowest possible rent it is essential that this class should be discouraged from deriving advantage from it, at the expense of the rich, whom such housing may be provided.

24. In Paragraph 25 it has been stated that economic pressure has led to two to six families occupying one room. Paragraph 26 has been stated that for a very large number of families the amount of rent which could normally be expected varied from nothing to $7.50 per month. Reference to the valuation tables in Appendix IV (Table 2) shows that, under private ownership, and depending on the size of the room, the rents for flats in the standard tenement must vary between $18 and $28 per month at 6% net interest, which is the normal return expected by private enterprise. Even at 4% net interest rents must be between $15 and $24 per month, average.

25. The capacity of $6 per month for five or six overcrowding is inevitable, and the law is powerless to prevent it.

26. From the foreign paragraphs it can be seen that the types of tenement most conducive to the best type of family life; for health it depends on through ventilation, although its occupants are not likely to be able to afford it; for the safety of the children, the tendency to overcrowding even when more comfortable accommodation is afforded. Possibly this is due to centuries of life under unsanitary conditions during which time the herd instinct for self-preservation, with the strong regard for relatives from the country, which, in combination with the strong regard for relatives congregating under one roof, in preference to splitting up into groups in separate dwellings. Whatever the cause, the result is that the Chinese are recognized. Over-crowding alone is a factor which strongly tends towards the creation of slums; coupled with lack of proper drainage and ventilation of rapid deterioration into slum conditions is a certainty.

TUITION IN ART OF LIVING

27. The great majority however live under over-crowded conditions from necessity and not from choice, and if possible, should be removed to an improved environment. That some tuition in the art of living is necessary must be conceded. They must be taught the importance of the use of sanitary appliances, respect for property and the ill effects of over-crowding.

SAFE DIET FOR GASTRIC ULCERS

Great care is needed in the feeding of sufferers from gastric and duodenal ulcers and inflammation of the stomach. The wrong kind of food will increase the pain and discomfort. In the early stages of treatment small quantities of liquid food must be taken at frequent intervals.

But strength must be maintained: the body must be kept nourished. That is why doctors and nurses recommend Horlicks as an ideal food for patients suffering from gastric ulcers and all inflamed conditions of the stomach.

In these difficult times of anxiety and worry, the task of carrying on and doing work which must be done is a doubly difficult one which must tend to exhaust one's nervous energy.

MEETING THE COST

The first Hongkong Budget under the gubernatorial administration of Sir Geoffrey Northcote would appear, on first impressions, to present a somewhat gloomy preview of the future. Expenditure in 1939 is expected to soar by over six million dollars since December last year to an all-time record of $88,502,760, leaving at the end of the year a deficit, if certain commendable proposals by His Excellency are carried out, of approximately $2,800,000 to be met from the Colony's surplus balance. The Financial Secretary, whose clear exposition of the financial position of the Colony is refreshing after previous uninformative statements laid before Hon. Councillors, foresees a $40,000,000 annual Budget in the not distant future.

In one respect, the cultivation in Hongkong of what can be called, "Dollar Sense," for want of a better expression, is somewhat unfortunate. Reduced to pounds, shillings and pence, a $40,000,000 Budget such as the Hon. Mr. S. Caine envisages means that the Colony will be called upon to expend approximately £2,500,000 per annum, or, on the basis of the present population, something like $2 per capita.

Under the circumstances pessimism seems somewhat unjustified. Many cities throughout the world with far less population or responsibilities than Hongkong are budgeting for expenditures that exceed those of this Colony two, three, even fivefold. It should be borne in mind that approximately seventeen per cent. of Hongkong's total revenue is remitted to the Imperial Government as this Colony's contribution to Imperial Defence. Additionally, Hongkong must also find not inconsiderable sums annually for Air Raid Precautions—the million dollars mentioned in yesterday's statement in Council is, it is believed, far below the minimum monetary requirement laid down by the Colony's advisers on A.R.P.—and for maintenance of its own defence forces—the Volunteer Corps and Naval Volunteer Reserves. However much we may protest at what seems an excessive taxation by the Imperial Government on our re-

THIS IS THE CANTONAL SYSTEM

From one end of the world to the other the words "Cantonal System" have been on everybody's lips. The adoption of this system in Czechoslovakia many people think could solve the problems of that unhappy country.

Here BETSY MACKENZIE, News Chronicle Geneva Correspondent, tells you what the Cantonal System is, how and why it works.

that harmony can reign among

The five exceptions are the Cantons of Glarus, Inner and Outer Appenzell, Upper and Lower Unterwalden, which still maintain the ancient form of government known as "pure democracy" and called the "Landsgemeinde." This consists of the people meeting at least once a year on a Sunday in spring, who enact their own laws, elect their officers and carry on their own government.

The secret of Swiss national unity undoubtedly lies in the cantonal system. There are 22 Cantons, six of them known as "half cantons," which were split owing to internal dissensions, so that in practice there are 25 Cantons.

Modelled on the United States constitution in 1848 the Swiss legislature was brought up to date in 1874; the Cantons are in the same relation to Berne as the American States are to Washington.

Each Canton is sovereign in all that does not infringe on Federal authority. It is responsible for its roads, canals, agriculture, welfare of the people and imposes taxes on income and property. It has its own law courts, although a unified penal code was adopted last May by a national referendum, which, however, has not yet been enforced.

Except for five Cantons, the legislative body is known as the "Grand Council," an excellent training school for would-be politicians, which sits for three or four years, draws up its own laws and acts as advisory body to the Central Government. Its members draw no salaries, are elected by the people of the Canton, and elect a president who is a member of the Federal Assembly at Berne.

Of the remaining 83 per cent. of the Colony's revenue, ten per cent. is required for Civil Service Pensions, another item which, as the Financial Secretary pointed out yesterday, must increase for some years to come unless the Colony is to default. Additionally, approximately 13 per cent. of the revenue will be required next year for the Police Department—another item which cannot be reduced in view of the difficulties, peculiar to this Colony, which are encountered in preserving peace and order.

It will be seen, therefore, that approximately forty per cent. of the Colony's total expenditure is taken up under three headings—Military Contributions to the Imperial Government, Pensions to Civil Servants, and the Police Department, leaving sixty per cent. for other services including the enormous salary bill for Civil Servants, Education, Charity, the Harbour and Fire Departments, the Medical Department, Prisons, Magistracies, and Loan Redemption. Public Works and other essential services must also receive their quota of the Colony's insufficient revenue.

In view of the situation outlined in Legislative Council yesterday, increased taxation seems inevitable within a few years. Hongkong citizens would hardly be justified in complaining when the occasion, which had been deferred to the extent that sound administration of essential services was jeopardised before the present "boom" created by Sino-Japanese hostilities, arises.

The Colony's capacity for making more generous contributions to the exchequer has only been fully tapped in one direction, the unfortunate to exception being those whose inability to bear the brunt of the cost of administration is genuine. The Hongkong citizen who can best afford to pay taxation has, in past years, had to dip only lightly into his pocket. The methods of raising additional taxation, when it is required, on a basis more equitable than that at present employed are so obvious that it is unnecessary to mention them here.

The Federal Assembly (Parliament)

Is the legislative body. It consists of two parts: 44 deputies chosen by the Cantons, two from each Council of State, and 111 representatives elected by the people one to every 20,000 voters once a year on a Sunday in spring, who enact their own laws, elect their officers and carry on their own government.

In the hands of the Federal Administration, with headquarters in Berne, lies the power to make war or peace, to dictate all foreign policy, carry out international obligations as a member of the League, impose tariffs and regulate postal, telegraph, telephone and railway services.

The Federal Government is composed as follows:

The Federal Council (Cabinet)

- (a) Is the executive body.
- (b) Consists of seven members of different political parties, elected by the Federal Assembly.
- (c) Each member sits for three years, but is recognised in practice to hold office as long as he wishes.
- (d) The Chairman is the President of the Confederation.

There is no Senate in the Federal Government and in sharp contrast to the United States it has two institutions which distinguish the Government of Switzerland, namely, the "Initiative" and the "Referendum." This is a machinery which allows the people to express their own choice at the polls. The whole Swiss electorate is estimated at 28 per cent. of the population, as only men over 20 have the suffrage and women are excluded.

By means of the "Initiative" 50,000 voters can introduce a Bill which must come before Parliament by means of a referendum. Every Bill must be submitted to the people, so it is no wonder that Swiss voters generally go to the polls every Sunday.

Notable referenda which were accepted by the voters in 1937 and 1938 were the adoption of Romanche as a fourth officially recognised language; the ban on Communism as a party; and the new penal code, in spite of stern opposition from 10 Cantons. An "Initiative" to ban freemasonry in Switzerland was rejected by a large majority.

Once a country torn with internal strife due to its wild mountain tribesmen, Switzerland is to-day a pattern of clock-work government. Never since 1874 has the country been so united. Hitler's seizure of Austria has done much, and in no other country in the world has such a determination arisen to keep united. This is shown by the enormous expenses to be borne and sanctioned by the people to retain.

Remarkable Document By Public Works Dept. Official

ECONOMICS OF COOLIE CHINESE A BIG FACTOR

IN A MEMORANDUM, remarkable for its comprehensiveness, and brilliant in its analytical description, Mr. W. H. Owen, B.Sc., A.R.I.B.A., A.M.T.P.I., of the Public Works Department, endeavours to tackle the housing and slum problems of Hongkong. The memorandum, which is incorporated in the Housing Commission's report published yesterday, makes bold, not only to show why Hongkong has such acute housing and over-crowding problems, but to indicate the lines along which to solve them.

Mr. Owen insists that it is useless to consider housing and slum problems, without taking into full cognisance the economics attached thereto. Legislation, he says, which ignores economics is useless. He therefore pays considerable attention, not only to economics of Hongkong's housing problems, but to the financial considerations involved, while in an appendix he offers plans of what he regards as the most desirable type of tenement house to be built for the lower-class Chinese, whose incomes are too low to permit them to rent normal accommodation.

The memorandum is too long to produce in its entirety in one issue, but because it is a document of considerable interest and issue, the Telegraph is reproducing it in serial form during the next two or three days. The first section which is published to-day deals with the history of housing and slum problems, as well as the sociological and economic aspects apropos Hongkong.

The first part of the memorandum is as follows:

1. The provision of housing for the working classes is a world wide problem to which, as yet, no completely satisfactory solution has been found. The problem is initially one of economics, arising from the fact that the majority of the working classes cannot afford to pay a rent which will cover running costs and provide interest on the capital outlay required, whether the capital be provided by private enterprise or by the State. For private enterprise house building is a method of putting capital to use for private gain. For the State it is a matter of social duty and the profit motive must be eliminated. Until recent years the State has hesitated to compete with private enterprise, but the steadily improving standards required for working class houses have cut down profits to such an extent that, for the most part, the building of working class houses is no longer attractive to the private investor, and the State has been forced to enter the field.

2. The housing problem is as old as the hills, but it is only in comparatively recent times that any concerted and sustained attempt has been made to solve it. The present movement began in Europe with the rise of industrialism at the beginning of the 19th Century. The rapid influx of people from the country to the towns found municipal authorities totally unprepared. Towns grew like mushrooms, without plan and without control. Where sanitary provision was made it was extremely primitive, for the most part however it was completely lacking. Badly built houses were crammed together as tightly as possible round the factories. Conditions became so appalling that something had to be done. In England from 1848 to the end of the 19th Century, a series of Sanitary and Public Health Acts were passed, but the net result was that, although sanitary conditions improved, over-crowding actually increased. Improved housing was achieved at the cost of increased rents which the workers could not afford to pay.

3. The same thing has happened in Hongkong. Whilst the latest type of tenement is healthy enough if a normal floor were occupied by one normal family, the vast majority of workers cannot afford sufficient money to rent houses for the use of one family alone and the result is that, in normal periods, we have over-crowding side by side with 'empty' tenements. Legislation which ignores economics is useless.

THE ENGLISH PROBLEM

4. In England, prior to the war, the State had content to supervise the provision of housing by private enterprise. The shortage of houses and the high cost of building after the war brought about the erection of blocks of flats. On the continent, in Europe, the early tendency was to rehouse in blocks of flats. Flats versus houses is a long standing subject for controversy. There is undoubtedly room for both, and the provision of one or the other must largely be dependant on local circumstances. For family life there are many objections to flats, even if provided with lifts. In congested areas however where the majority of tenants must be rehoused on the spot, flats appear to offer the only solution. They give more recreational area and are more economical, when land prices are high.

Section view of the model type of tenement suggested by Mr. Owen in his report.

5. The erection of large numbers of low-rented houses brings in its train numerous subsidiary problems. The first is that the rent must be within the means of the prospective tenant.

When income is limited, also in rural areas less money is paid, and hence means less, so that the rent which can be removed from slum areas and the death rate among them has increased through malnutrition. Many new housing estates, ideally built and, from the point of view of health, ideally situated, have failed to attract the working classes for whom they were intended, as they were situated too far from means of livelihood, that the workers could not afford either the time for travelling or the increased transport costs. In some cases the lack of schools, churches, shops, and such like have kept prospective tenants away. The slum worker, a semi-educated person, his environment and almost complete lack of privacy has forced upon him a degree of sociability entirely absent in the wealthier classes. In England the change from over-crowded and overbuilt slums to the comparative solitude of twelve houses per acre, with no social centre or common meeting ground, has occasionally proved too drastic, and tenants have drifted back to the more familiar neighbourhoods of the slums.

6. The type of dwelling, in relation to the people to be housed, is a matter for serious consideration. In England the general tendency has been towards the 'garden suburb' but, in rebuilding congested areas, economic pressure has brought about the erection of blocks of flats. On the continent, in Europe, the early tendency was to rehouse in blocks of flats. Flats versus houses is a long standing subject for controversy. There is undoubtedly room for both, and the provision of one or the other must largely be dependant on local circumstances. For family life there are many objections to flats, even if provided with lifts. In congested areas however where the majority of tenants must be rehoused on the spot, flats appear to offer the only solution. They give more recreational area and are more economical, when land prices are high.

7. The standard of accommodation to be provided will depend on what the prospective tenant can afford and on local usage, and, also, on what communal services are available. In many European countries nothing is said about facilities, as they are provided in most cases this is balanced by the provision of communal bath houses and laundries. There must also be taken into account the cost and availability of public supplies for water, power and light and heating.

8. It can be seen therefore that to consider housing from one point of view only is to court failure. The factors affecting housing can be broadly classified under four headings, sociology, hygiene and standards, finance, and planning.

SOCIOLOGY

9. A very large proportion of the working class in Hongkong is composed of immigrants from South China. Before their arrival in Hongkong they lived in villages and were engaged chiefly in agricultural pursuits and native industries. For the purpose of defence these villages are generally compactly built and surrounded by a strong wall of stone or timber. The roads are reduced to the minimum necessary for pedestrian circulation. As in most rural communities sanitation is extremely primitive. With no large herds of livestock to provide manure human excreta is used for the purpose. The limitations placed by the surrounding wall on an expanding population have inevitably resulted in over-crowding.

Two-Day Race Meeting

Great Success: Fast Runs Seen

Favourites Had Lean Time On Second Day Of Carnival

(By "Captain Foster")

The Double Tenth Meeting under the auspices of the Hongkong Jockey Club held on Saturday and Monday at Happy Valley was without a doubt a huge success from every point of view.

The attendance on the first day was pretty good, but on Monday the crowd was much bigger and this could be easily gauged by the support received by the cash sweep department. In the last race, the lucky ticket No. 1024 which drew Mr. Li Lon-sang's Scenic View in the Kiangsi Handicap, received $3,304 for an outlay of $2.

The track was in excellent condition and although no new records were established there were a few fast runs, especially in the Kiangsi Handicap for "B" class China ponies. This event was won by Mrs. L. Dunbar's Red Feather, piloted by Peter Wei, from the 1½ mile post (about half a mile 170 yards) in 1.07½ and the scramble was faster by one three-tenths seconds than King's Warden's time for the Double Tenth Plate over the same distance.

Racing was of very high standard, but the two main events, the October Handicap and the Double Tenth Plate, were poor, for there were only three starters for each race. However, all other events were keenly contested with several good finishes and this spoke volumes for the handicapping.

Centre Court Starts The Ball Rolling

The favourites had a lean afternoon on Monday, the crash commencing like a procession from the second event and Centre Court, with S. W. Tang in the saddle, started the ball rolling with a dividend of $205.20 for a win in the Canberra Handicap over the champion course for "A" class Australian ponies. This was followed by an explosion in the fifth race when National Guard, cleverly ridden by Young Wing-kwai, captured the novice event, the Fokien Plate, over a mile and paid $530 to the delight of 23 staunch supporters. The jockey not only broke his "duck" but the pay-out was the biggest of this season, the best last being by Oak Bay who handed out $431.30 for a win in the June Handicap. Young's success caused another sensation, for National Guard was the first leg of the daily double and there were six backers who could not connect the second leg. One of these six "unfortunate" selected Coronation Day while another picked Plain View. There were two tickets on Salvage Master, who was beaten by Gold Coin and one each on Valorous (third pony) and Whalley. The most interesting feature of the gamble was that Gold Coin was made a hot favourite in the part-mutuel department, but none of these six backers would place any confidence in the mare even with a crack jockey like Encarnacao. The pool of $3,704 will be carried over to the next meeting on October 22 and it is interesting to relate that this will be the third since the inception in 1933. The last pool carried over was on November 2, 1935 when punters failed to connect Night Star with Beginner's Luck.

V. V. Needa Best Jockey Of Meeting

I append below a complete list of the successful riders:

	1st	2nd	3rd
V. V. Needa	3	3	4
P. Y. Wei	3	2	1
C. Encarnacao	2	1	1
A. W. Raymond	2	1
H. C. Phu	2	2
S. W. Tang	1	2	1
H. J. Hearne	1	1	1
B. Proulx	1	1	1
Young Wing-kwai	1	1	1
P. L. Jul	2	1
B. L. Tao	2	1
L. W. Cotham	1	1
P. P. Botelho	1	1
H. P. Chanour	1	1
C. L. Gregory	1	1

The champion jockey of the meeting was V. V. Needa who has a ratio of 3-3-4, followed by Peter Wei who rode three winners with two seconds and a third. It will be seen that Needa was placed ten times out of a total of 18 events and those who had backed his mounts must have been on the right side. C. Encarnacao figures third in the list, while Allan Raymond is closely behind, losing the position by only a third.

OCTOBER HANDICAP A TAME AFFAIR

The October Handicap, which promised to be a great event, turned out a tame affair and Mr. Moller's Silky-light had an easy canter to win by four good lengths. Owing to the low impostion allotted to King's Warden and the pony being ridden by Needa, the Dynasty's candidate had some support in the betting but the grey stallion could not put a fight. It was indeed a great pity that Desert Chief could not get out owing to a stiff shoulder and the other nomination, Cameronian, belonging to Mr. Eu Tong-sen was considered by the connections to be a sprinter. However, Bear Claw with S. W. Tang up, broke the tape first with Silky-light and King's Warden hanging on behind. At the football gate Needa took his mount forward and he maintained the lead until the 1½ mile beacon was reached when we saw the transformation scene. At this juncture, Silky-light was given a stroke of the cane and the brown stallion responded so gamely that Proulx had no difficulty in overtaking King's Warden. In less than a second, Proulx got on level terms with the leader and thereafter he had an arm-chair ride down the straight, winning by four lengths. In fact Proulx eased his mount in the last 100 yards from the touch line and the whole distance was covered in 2.30% which was two-fifths of a second faster than the Nathan Handicap (first section) for "B" class China ponies.

FAITH IN ELIZABETH JUSTIFIED

Judging by her performance in the Nathan Handicap (second section) over a distance jaunt, the opinion formed by punters was that Elizabeth was more of a sprinter

RUGGERITES PREPARING FOR SEASON

RUGGER MATCHES AT HOME

London, Oct. 13.
East Midlands and Leicestershire had a very evenly-contested game in the County Rugby championship at Bedford to-day, the result being a draw of 13-13.

Nottinghamshire, Lincolnshire and Derbyshire defeated Warwickshire by 13-0.

The Police Union trounced Cornwall to the tune of 22-0.—Reuter.

Selections To Beat The Book

The special "Telegraph" forecast of Home Football matches was again very successful last week. Of the nine "certainties," eight turned out to be correct; and of the five optional selections, four were correct.

The following are the selections for to-morrow:

Special Home Selections

Newcastle
West Brom.
Cardiff
Bradford C.
New Brighton
Aberdeen
Clyde Hearts Rangers

Optional Home Selections

Charlton

AMERICA PLEASED WITH THE R. AND A.

London, Sept. 30.
The decision of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club to follow America's example by limiting the number of clubs a player may carry to 14, has been great with enthusiasm in the United States.

Gene Sarazen is reported to have sold in New York "I think it is a good thing where caddies are concerned, and too many clubs make the game complicated."

Jesse C. W. Sweetser, former British and American amateur champion, who is now treasurer of the United States G. A. said "We have had the best possible results this year through limiting the number of clubs to 14, and there has been only the slightest adverse criticism."

SHANGHAI INTERPORTERS

ARRIVE IN COLONY: BOWLERS, GOLFERS

Two Interport teams from Shanghai arrived in the Colony this morning. The lawn bowlers came by the Tsinan and the golfers by the Rajputana.

The lawn bowlers who reached Hongkong to-day were H. Wallace, captain and manager of the team, J. M. C. Lopes, W. J. MacDermott and K. L. Swartzell. The other two members of the team, J. W. Brerley and A. M. Gutierrez, have been here for a few days.

On their arrival, the Shanghai players were met by officials of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association, including Mr. A. Hyde-Lay (President), Mr. C. B. Hosking (Hon. Secretary), and several members of the Hongkong team.

The official programme of the team commences to-morrow with a match against the Craignepover C.C., but it is more than likely that the visitors will be given a green for practice this afternoon.

Local officials are anxious to give the Shanghai players as much practice as possible before the First Interport, which will be played at Kowloon on Sunday.

The programme is as follows:

THE PROGRAMME

The following is the programme drawn up for the visitors:

Saturday, Oct. 14.—Shanghai v. Kowloon C. C.

Friday, Oct. 20.—Shanghai v. Indian R. C.

Saturday, Oct. 22.—Third Interport at Club do Recreio.

Sunday, Oct. 23.—Shanghai v. Kowloon F. C.

Monday, Oct. 24.—Shanghai v. Hongkong F. C.

Tuesday, Oct. 25.—Shanghai v. His Excellency the Governor's team.

Wednesday, Oct. 26.—Shanghai v. Yacht Club and Kowloon Tong at Kowloon Tong.

Thursday, Oct. 27.—Shanghai v. Taikoo and Hongkong Electric at Taikoo.

Friday, Oct. 28.—Shanghai v. Association Rink.

The Interport dinner will be held as arranged on Saturday, October 22 after the final interport.

Shanghai Golfers Now Practising At Fanling

London, Sept. 30.

Herman, the Hampshire fast bowler, has signed a contract to play for Rochdale, the Central Lancashire League club, for the next two seasons. Herman, who has played for Hampshire since 1920, qualified from Oxford. He has taken 618 wickets for Hampshire, his best season being 1937, when he took 142 wickets and scored 810 runs. Last season he did the hat-trick against Glamorgan and took more than 100 wickets for the third year in succession. Earlier this week it was announced that Arnold, the Fulham footballer, was leaving Hampshire.

The following arrangements have been made:

Singles (six-a-side) will be played on the Old Course on Saturday starting at 9.15 a.m. and on the New Course at 2 p.m.

Fourballs (three matches) will be played on the New Course on Sunday commencing at 9.15 a.m. and on the Old Course at 2 p.m.

Singles matches count one point, and fourballs two points. All matches are over 36 holes (18 on each Course) and no match will be played beyond the 36th hole.

Those selected to represent Hongkong in the series are O. E. C. Marston, T. A. Pearce, A. E. Lissaman, F. Groves, S. J. H. Fox, D. J. Gilmore, P. H. Scoones and R. Young.

EDRICH OUT FIRST BALL IN FAMILY MATCH

London, Sept. 14.

A thousand villagers gasped in astonishment at Blofield (Norfolk) yesterday when William John Edrich, England Test cricketer, was out first ball.

They braved an incessant drizzle to see the hero of Norfolk cricket lead on to the pitch an eleven composed entirely of members of his family.

CAUGHT FOR NOUGHT

Falcon's eleven had declared at 132 for 2 in order that the drenched spectators might see Edrich bat.

Hearty cheers greeted him as he went out to the crease with his father.

Gene Sarazen is reported to have sold in New York "I think it is a good thing where caddies are concerned, and too many clubs make the game complicated."

Jesse C. W. Sweetser, former British and American amateur champion, who is now treasurer of the United States G. A. said "We have had the best possible results this year through limiting the number of clubs to 14, and there has been only the slightest adverse criticism."

The Edriches made 65 for six before rain caused an abandonment.

In the Edrich team were the Test player's father, his three brothers, three cousins and three uncles.

Football Clubs' Prospects

No. 20—FIGHTING MEN OF POMPEY

Although Portsmouth made such a bad start that they only narrowly escaped relegation last season, they played football worthy of champions when they really began to make progress. Indeed, their record then—33 points from their last 27 games—was surpassed only by the Arsenal.

The team which fought so strenuously to keep the club in the First Division is available to start the new season, and it includes one of the strongest half-back lines in the League in Guthrie, Rowe and Wharton. Altogether 22 players have been re-engaged, and although there have been no sensational close-season captures, several promising youngsters have been signed, bringing the professional staff up to 29.

RESERVE STRENGTH

Portsmouth's brightest prospect, in fact, lies in the strength of their reserves. Last season the second team were runners-up in the London Combination, and among them are several young players who would do well in any First Division side. There are one or two positions which the directors would like to see strengthened, but with a limited purse the club will probably have to be content with a few more juniors, in the hope of building them into good players.

Anyhow, Manager Jack Tinn is quite alive to the position, but, as he points out, the club can hardly give the public better football than was produced in the second half of last season, and if the team continue to show the same form Portsmouth will soon be among the League leaders.

Among the newcomers are two young six-footers in Ernest Butler, an 18-year-old goalkeeper from Bath City, and A. Dale, a 19-year-old back

Where Were They TWENTY YEARS AGO?

By George Edinger

MUSSOLINI
PROF. EINSTEIN.

THE War was nearly over, but nobody seemed to think so. Mr. Bonar Law was saying that the Allies would certainly have lost if it ever became possible for a man or group of men to plunge the world into such a conflict again.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain had just stopped being Minister of National Service with his own department at St. Ermin's Hotel. Mr. Charles Chaplin had just started his own company in Hollywood because "Shoulder Arms" had been so successful.

Sir Thomas Horder had got his knighthood (it was in the New Year's Honours List) for his work at the Royal Cancer Hospital in Fulham and managers were wondering who would replace Leslie Henson, drafted to the Flying Corps to do clerical work.

IVOR NOVELLO had made his name as an actor in "The Yellow Jacket" and as a composer by writing a pantomime hit, "Keep the Home Fires Burning." He had a musical comedy running called "Arlette," but he could not do very much about that because he was in the War Office (after two aeroplane crashes) working under the keen eye of Winston Churchill's Military Secretary, a young Lifeguardsman called Sir Archibald Sinclair.

Corporal Hitler, of the 16th Bavarian (Reserve) Infantry Battalion, raved about traitors in a Berlin suburban hospital while recovering from the effects of mustard gas (but if it was mustard gas, why was he discharged after three weeks?). The men in his ward would not be taught how to win the war by "someone who had wangled a cushy job in the battalion orderly room."

A RECRUIT in the Artists' Rifles, Rifleman Coward, had just gone into hospital at Gidea Park, Romford, where the battalion was training, because he broke his head slipping on a soapy duck-board.

Benito Mussolini had come out of hospital at Milan and was writing angry newspaper articles, "his eyes popping out of his head" with emotion, over Caporetto.

Major Hore-Belisha was flying round the Near East in the green-tasseled uniform of the Intelligence Service, and 2nd Cisco Franco youngest field officer in the Spanish Army list, was driving about the Middle West as military representative Oviedo, where he commanded the 3rd Infantry and the men used to complain that he treated them like Moorish levies he had grown accustomed to ordering around Tetuan.

HE may or may not have met the dark, silent Scot called John Reith, placing American contracts for British munitions (the payment is still an awkward question), but in one of the receptions given at Washington he must have seen the energetic chief of that department in the United States Navy Office which was in charge of the Fleet in European waters, most promising of all President Wilson's young men, Franklin Roosevelt.

Brigadier General Mustafa Kemal had returned sulkily to his command in Palestine after a violent quarrel with the German high command (he could not stand the Germans) about Major Clement Attlee was fear of wakening weary munition

Japanese Capture Key City To Canton Rly.

Following the capture of Tamshui, the Japanese have effected acrossing of the Tuklong River, and appear to be pushing rapidly towards the Canton-Kowloon Railway.

All communication between Hongkong and Canton has now ceased. Railway bridges have been destroyed at several points, and the boom across the Pearl River below Bocca Tigris fort prevents entry or egress of all shipping.

The last remaining link between Hongkong and Canton was severed this morning when several bridges on the highway from the Hongkong frontier to Wancho were destroyed. It is believed that Japanese planes effected their destruction.

Five British, one French and one American warships are bottled up in the Pearl and West Rivers as a result of the closure of the boom below Bocca Tigris.

In addition, the steamers Tung On, Kumsan, Kwangai and Tintay, which last night embarked large numbers of British, American and Chinese refugees for Hongkong, are also bottled up. They were forced to disembark their passengers this morning.

A Reuter message states that preparations are being made for the evacuation of all Chinese women and children from Canton to the interior. Arrangements have been completed for immediately evacuating 400,000.

Notices in the streets of Canton urge the populace to remain calm and express the hope that they will take advantage of the arrangements made for evacuation.

The Chinese are admitting the fall of Tamshui. The Japanese forces are converging on Wancho from Tamshui and Namshan.

REFUGEES INTERRED

More than two hundred refugees who crossed the border yesterday afternoon have been segregated at the Government Concentration Camp at Kam Tin Aerodrome in the New Territories.

A further influx is expected today as the Japanese drive in towards the railway.

Among the refugees were several from Tamshui.

It is believed that the Japanese now intend to cut the railway at Pingwu, slightly north of Shum Chun. Shum Chun is the first station across the border from Hongkong.

It is officially announced here that the Japanese Commander-in-Chief of the forces in the South, has issued a communiqué that his men landed at the south-east portion of Kwangtung Province without sustaining a single casualty. The troops are now advancing inland.

The communiqué also claims that the naval air force were engaged the whole of yesterday in strafing military establishments, bridges, military lorries and junks with considerable success. A bridge carrying the Canton-Kowloon Railway across the East River at Tung King, was destroyed.

H. K. Ship Drama

BATTERED BY STORM and typhoon, the Hongkong two-master schooner, Kialka, 58 tons, which left here recently to serve as a hospital ship in the South Sea Islands, has been forced to seek shelter in Manila.

Under the command of Captain John Cummings, the ship ran into bad weather shortly after leaving the Colony. Half-way across the China sea, the frail craft was overtaken by a typhoon and had to change her course and head for Manila Bay.

The radio apparatus went out of action and Captain Cummings was unable to receive typhoon warnings.

With supplies running low, the situation on board became desperate as a Chinese member of the crew fell ill. On arrival at Manila, he was rushed to hospital, but later reported to be in fair condition.

After securing fresh provisions in Manila, the Kialka sailed for the Gilbert and Ellice Islands, a British Colony in the South Pacific.

She will serve as a hospital ship to the 34,000 inhabitants of the islands occupying 208 square miles of ocean.

First Dollar Liner In Six Weeks Due

Being the first Dollar ship to call at Hongkong for a record period of six weeks, the President Coolidge is expected to reach here on October 14, as scheduled.

Only in strike-time has there been a longer absence of Dollar ships from the Colony.

The President Coolidge is to continue to operate on the same schedule as it is following at present. The names of the three President liners which will operate in conjunction with the President Coolidge in providing fortnightly sailings to San Francisco will be announced later.

On the eastbound schedule from Manila the Coolidge will call at Hongkong, Kobe, Yokohama and Honolulu before going to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

HEAT WAVE TEMPERATURE SOARS IN COLONY

Highest October Recording Since 1901

TWICE THIS MONTH — yesterday and on Tuesday last — Hongkong has experienced its highest record temperature since 1901.

The present temperature is almost twenty degrees above the normal mean temperature for the month of October.

Yesterday's maximum reading of 90 degrees was only less than four degrees short of the October record, which has existed since October 12, 1890. In 1901, the temperature soared one October day to 91.4.

Cooler weather, however, is anticipated in the official forecast, issued by the Royal Observatory at 10 o'clock this morning. North-easterly winds, with fair weather generally and cooler temperatures are expected.

Humidity is also adding to the Colony's discomfort. The atmosphere was within ten per cent of saturation point yesterday, when 90 per cent humidity was recorded. This is 18 per cent above the annual mean for October.

By 10 o'clock this morning, however, humidity had dropped to 71 per cent.

Hongkong appears to have settled down for another spell of dry weather. Yesterday was rainless and the total rainfall for the year, 54.67 inches, is approximately 20 inches below the average.

HOT WEATHER BRINGS CHOLERA

The cholera epidemic has made a decided upward movement during the last fortnight, chiefly as a result of the hot weather which followed the typhoon threats.

It was just as well our preparations had been tried out under the actual conditions of a crisis. There was much to improve, and they now had an opportunity of correcting errors and filling omissions.

Sir John Simon emphasized that nevertheless there was no comparison between our unpreparedness of 1914 and the forethought and thoroughness of the present arrangements.

Referring to the question of the orderly use of man-power, he said that he and other Ministers had been deeply impressed with the innumerable letters received offering services to that State.

"I am not entering a controversy between volunteering and compulsion" he said, "though I may observe that compulsion is not the same thing as organisation. But how much more valuable these voluntary offers of help would be if in each case the choice and allotment of essential national work had been made beforehand. There is a widespread realisation that the organisation of man-power is a very complicated task. We must not wait for this organisation until a crisis recurs. In whatever may be the most appropriate form, we must do it now."

PELA FOR VIGOROUS SURVEY

Unpreparedness In Britain

LONDON, Oct. 13. Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, speaking at Sheffield to-night said that the Government had at once entered into a vigorous, complete, remorseless and urgent survey of the whole position in the weight of experience during the recent emergency.

It was just as well our preparations had been tried out under the actual conditions of a crisis. There was much to improve, and they now had an opportunity of correcting errors and filling omissions.

Choir Boy Who Sang At King's Coronation

Staying in Hongkong for more than a fortnight in August, an Elton choir boy was an apprentice aboard the freighter Silvereye.

Now at Singapore, the choir boy, William Denis Harper, aged 16, made a radio broadcast from there this week.

He sang in a Victor Celeste Trio session, his items being "Angels Guard Thee" and "Orpheus and Euridice."

Though the boy was unnoted in Hongkong, it is revealed that he sang in the choir at Westminster Abbey at the coronation of King George VI.

Big Deficit In Belgium

Brussels, Oct. 13. The Finance Minister of Belgium indicated to-day that the present financial year would show a deficit of about 754,000,000 francs (approximately £5,400,000).

The Minister added that he was faced with the prospect of obtaining 100,000,000 francs from new taxation.

The Government had decided to increase the tax on football pools to 10 per cent, and to raise the cost of licences for radio sets, while there would also be an extra charge of five centimes on letters and postcards.

Hungary Threatens Action

BUDAPEST, Oct. 13. AN OFFICIAL SOURCE has stated that Hungary expected the four Munich powers to act quickly in the settlement of the Hungarian boundaries in Czechoslovakia, otherwise Hungary will have to take steps herself.

Czech persecution of the Hungarian minority is alleged, but it is added that at present Hungary will delay full mobilisation of her forces.

A crowd of thousands to-night shouted down the Czechoslovak police which are strongly guarding the Czechoslovak legation.—Reuter.

WHY DEMANDS WERE UNACCEPTABLE

Komorn, Oct. 14. The reasons why the Hungarian demands to Slovakia were unacceptable to the Slovakian delegation were explained to the press by the chief of the press department of the Slovak delegation, M. Emo Bohum.

He declared that the Slovak delegation had expected discussions over a period of about two weeks, and was therefore surprised at the continual pressure brought to bear for speed.

The Slovaks, being a small people of only 2,500,000, were obliged to examine more carefully than larger peoples all questions concerning the cession of their territory. Ill-con-

London Concern At Palestine Strife

LONDON, Oct. 13.

THE CRITICAL SITUATION in Palestine is giving rise to increasing concern in Government circles here who confess that they see no immediate solution other than by force. That the Cabinet is by no means agreed upon the Palestine policy is evident newspaper comments.

One group apparently supports the original partitioning plan which would divide Palestine into three parts under Arab, Jewish and British control, while another advocates the retention of the present mandate system with use of the mailed fist to keep down the insurrection and clashes between Arabs and Jews.

The News Chronicle writes that the Government is entirely undecided as to what is the best solution of Britain's most serious problem at the present moment. The paper points out that even if it were possible to gain the approval of the British public for the policy of military suppression of the revolt which is doubtful, this solution would not be permanent, nor would it bring peace to the Holy Land. Nor can tranquillity be restored by an unresisted suppression of the Arabs alone. The task of England to reconquer her policy, since valuable British troops are now being used for a purpose which does

Heavy Fighting West Of River

MUCH GREATER OPPOSITION is now being encountered by the Japanese forces who are attempting to cut the Canton-Kowloon Railway between the Hongkong border and Cheungmutau.

Heavy fighting is raging west of the Taikong River, which the Japanese succeeded in crossing this morning after the fall of Tamshui, "Gateway" to the railway.

Another Japanese force appears to be operating north of Tamshui and is apparently converging on Tai Chow, from where the Japanese are invading until the last minute.

Interviewed by a reporter, one of the women refugees said: "In my village not a single able-bodied man has evacuated. All of them have laid down their mallets and have enlisted in the army, taking with them whatever firearms they possess."

The refugees came from districts near enough to Bias Bay to permit them to view the Japanese fleet concentrating there. While crossing over a hill into the New Territories, they saw 150 large and small Japanese vessels in the Bay, and about 250 Japanese infantry and nearly 100 cavalry moving on the shore.

No sooner had the refugees crossed the border at Shataukok than (Continued on Page 10.)

STOP PRESS

Japanese Ultimatum

Thousands of Kwangtung troops are passing through the city in all directions. Most of them are coming down the West River in junks, sampans and every available river craft. Disembarking at the East Bund, they are being hurried to the Canton-Kowloon Railway Station for the front.

Trucks carrying food and fuel and other necessities have been continually passing the Shamoen Bridge throughout the day.

The sound of heavy guns was again audible in Canton this morning, it is believed from direction of Bocca Tigris.

It is rumored that the Japanese planes dropped pamphlets giving the Kwangtung authorities 24-hours' notice in which to surrender. If this was not done they would carry out a large scale bombing of the city. The reported ultimatum expires at dawn to-morrow.—Reuter.

REFUGEES CROSS BORDER

Refugees are commencing to stream across the frontier in increasing numbers. Over two hundred were interned at the Government concentration camp at Kam Tin last night.

A People's Mobilisation Commission, which will undertake publicity, investigation, fund raising, refugee work and medical work, has been formed in Canton.

The possibility of Chinese leaders in South China detaching themselves from the Chungking Government and entering into separate negotiations with Japan is envisaged in political circles in Shanghai.

It is claimed that Kwangtung and Kwangsi have always been antagonistic to the Central regime.

A Trans-Ocean magazine states that it is believed in Shanghai that the Japanese army, which is now marching on Canton, will shortly receive instructions to hit in order to furnish opportunity for negotiations between the Japanese and the South China military leaders.

The expected "invasion" of the New Territories by Chinese refugees started in earnest yesterday, when several large batches of evacuees from Shukwai and Kweichow, near Tamshui, were seen crossing the border at Shataukok.

For the most part the refugees were women and children, who had been sent post-haste for the Hongkong border when the ominous sound of heavy gun-firing was heard in the villages around Tamshui.

Ten Japanese transports left here to-day. Their destination is believed to be either Bias Bay or the Pearl River.</

Jill Adam says we're still

IT is a melancholy fact, but women are really very like their mothers.

The most determined modern women conceal beneath their front exteriors a melting tenderness which, this year, is definitely expressed by the most sentimental underclothes we have had for a long time.

Look at this clothes-line, for example, supported on one side by the comely Edwardian mamma, and opposite by her contemporary descendant—you and me, that is, in our high-necked chiffon blouse.

Not only our chiffon blouses are high-necked either. The big surprise of the recent lingerie-buying has been the number of high-necked nightgowns and even cami-knickers that have been sold.

EVERY so often you get a real change in the underclothes mode; thus now, after years of straight-topped, shoulder-strapped chemises, slips and cami-knickers, you get them high-necked or brassiere-topped.

And as you see, the influence of our mothers is felt in trans-

Fried Sandwiches

LEFT-OVER slices of bread, buttered or unbuttered, can be turned into delicious "fries" for supper. Many picnic sandwiches can be treated similarly if there are any left over.

Ham or tongue sandwiches are ideal for frying. Put a small piece of butter into the pan and make it smoking hot. Then add the sandwiches and fry them fairly quickly till golden brown outside and piping hot through.

Brush over fruit and nut sandwiches with a little milk and dip them in castor sugar before frying. It is easy to turn slices of bread or bread and butter into suitable sandwiches for frying. Any sort of filling that is too rich will do.

Sandwiches filled with mixtures of fish, cheese, etc., should be arranged on a plate over a pan of boiling water, covered with a basin and steamed rather than fried. Be sure to make them thoroughly hot, and serve them at once, because they lose their heat quickly.

W. B.

OTHER points which mark underclothing as belonging to the new era are:

1. Colour—Pink, blue and white are not nearly so new now as black, plum or candy striped.

2. Trimming—Plain fagoting, frilling, binding or rows of machine stitching are never than lace incrustations, which, if they are used, make part of

Under the new full-skirted dresses there's really no reason either for not making fine cotton underclothes as grandmother did, and getting away with it. But under anything else is best.

The simple, unpretentious materials are always smarter than cheap qualities in "posh" fabrics; and even expensive lingerie houses are realising the possibilities of such fabrics as chintz lined with bright towelling for dressing-gowns. Ordinary flannel in well-combined colours has long been smarter than shiny fabrics for house coats and dressing-gowns.

Soups for Chilly Days

WITH the temperature ever changing, it is difficult to arrange meals in advance. But there are times, when this has to be done, and I should a hot weather luncheon, as planned for a day which proves chilly, the simplest way out of the difficulty is to give a warming soup, and then proceed with the arranged cold menu.

Spinach Soup

Cook a heaped quart of prepared spinach till tender in 3 gills of boiling water, to which pinches of soda a few minutes, season with pepper.

and sugar have been added. Drain, and salt, and just before removing chop, and rub through a sieve; then from the heat, stir in two slightly add the puree thus obtained to a beaten yolks of eggs, mixed with a pint of white stock, and bring to the gill to thick cream. Serve at once. boil. In a lined saucepan, melt 1 oz butter, stir in 1 oz flour, cook a little, then slowly add the mixed spinach and stock. When the soup has thickened, stir in  $\frac{1}{4}$  pint milk and season with pepper and salt, and serve very hot.

Mushroom Soup

Peel, clean, and chop  $\frac{1}{2}$  lb mushrooms, and add to the soup. Add 2 oz mushrooms, and serve very hot.

Lightly cook in a tablespoon of minced onions in a tablespoon of butter, for 5 minutes, then add the lettuce, 5 gills white stock, and 2 tablespoons well washed rice. Cook till the rice is tender, stir in  $\frac{1}{2}$  pint of white stock, and rub milk with a slightly beaten egg yolk, through a sieve. Meanwhile cook 4 oz small sage in  $\frac{1}{2}$  pint boiling water per oz sage, and salt. Thoroughly reheat for half an hour, and add to the without boiling, and serve.

Note.—This is a splendid way of using up your surplus supplies of sliced mushrooms and stock.

New Wools Give Marled Effect

THE busy knitter misses much if she doesn't know about the new wools, including the crinkled kinds which give a marl effect. Other new wools, which have the effect of a fancy tweed when knitted up, are in true heather colours.

In direct contrast come those yarns which mix artificial silk with wool. There is no lustre in them, and the result is a suede effect which, in mist colours, is especially attractive for cardigans and coats.

Camel hair and wool make another useful coat mixture.

Unravelable metal threads twisted into strands of wool give a soft sparkle to frocks and suits.

Hammocks

BUT choosing wool for jumper is not nearly such a problem as washing them. They need delicate care and handling, and their drying is perhaps more important than their washing. To leave the jumper lying on a cloth to dry slowly is one way.

Of course, no one would peg up a newly washed jumper.

Another excellent way is to use a specially designed hammock which unfolds to about a yard in length. It measures two feet wide and is made from a light, durable mesh in which rows are crocheted with cotton threads.

With this hammock suspended between the backs of two chairs, the most delicate woolen garment will not stretch as it dries. In fact, drying is facilitated as the air circulating under as well as over it.

Painting A Brooch

A HANDICRAFT which is easy, fascinating, and inexpensive is the painting of jewellery.

The various pieces, each stamped with flower designs, include rings, bracelets and brooches, some with antique finishes, others with platinum effects, but most of them are gilt.

Equipped with a few fine brushes and glossy or matt paints, you till the little petals of the flowers till the article gleams with bright, mult-colours.

Vivid poster colours can be used, but the wise craftsman introduces a small proportion of white to throw till the vividness of the gilt and the colours.

Such ornaments are very beautiful against dull black dresses.

Rails For Towels

Rails in the bathroom and the bedroom are much more practical.

In the bathroom, the hot pipe probably provides an excellent resting-place for the towel. Where there is no hot rail, a glass rail is smart and easy to clean.

Black composition rails for towels are used in both the bath and the bedroom, and wooden rails brightly painted conform to new colour schemes.

Underfoot

QUIET colours in furnishing schemes encourage the use of matching floors, and pale colours does not mind the bother of keeping them spruce.

For instance, pale pearl-grey parquet flooring is an elegant example of the influence of pale, quiet furnishing schemes. Equally as exclusive is a floor of green oak, or grey-plink ash.

Even white floors need not be slippery though they have a faint gloss, and, in this instance, plain linoleum, rather than painted wood is advised, because it can be washed. Wooden flowers in light colours are best cleaned with wax.

WILL LIVE IN H.K.

NOW working on her twenty-first romantic novel, a young English writer, whose love stories are widely read by women, will arrive in Hongkong this week to live here with her naval officer husband.

She is Marjorie Price, 31-year-old author of "The Mantle of Saltash" and "Pandora Dances."

Her husband, Lieut. F. C. V. Brightman, arrived in Hongkong last week. Mrs. Brightman is remaining in Singapore for a fortnight to join H.M.S. Westcott.

"My latest novel is about life at Malta, where I spent several months, while my husband was stationed there," the well-known authoress said recently.

Before she married, Mrs. Brightman had had about five novels published.

"Most of my books are 'heart-throb stories,'" she said with a smile. "And it is great fun for me to watch typists and shop girls eagerly reading them in the buses and tubes at home."

Mrs. Brightman says she finds life as a naval wife eminently suitable for her work. A novelist can work anywhere and if she has the opportunity of seeing so much of the world as a naval wife invariably has, she always has new settings for stories. She left England to marry her husband in Burma, when he was stationed there.

After leaving home to dance in musical comedy, she wrote her first novel, "The Mantle of Saltash," to amuse herself.

Plot To Seize Power In Sofia

London, Oct. 13. The Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Belgrade reported to-day that a plot had been hatched to overthrow the Government of Sofia.

He added that many members of a Macedonian secret revolutionary organisation had been arrested, and ordered to leave the country as a result of General Peel's assassination.

It is officially announced that a search of the extremists' hide-outs had resulted in many arrests. The police were patrolling the streets before dawn.

PROTECTING JAPANESE IN COLONY

Consul-General Sees Police Commissioner

THE "TELEGRAF" is authoritatively informed that a warning has been issued to all Japanese subjects residing in Hongkong to be cautious in view of the possibility of anti-Japanese feeling arising amongst the Chinese in the Colony.

The warning to the Japanese was conveyed by their Consul General, Mr. T. Nakamura.

It is understood from authoritative sources that Mr. Nakamura interviewed the Hon. T. H. Kling, Commissioner of Police, on Wednesday, and requested that precautionary measures be taken for the complete protection of Japanese residents in Hongkong.

It is understood that the Police Department had already increased the normal guards which have been protecting Japanese business establishments, hotels and residences, before Mr. Nakamura's approach was made.

Mr. Nakamura has also addressed an official note to the Government of Macao, requesting the Portuguese authorities to take appropriate measures for protecting Japanese subjects residing there.

New Zealand's Vital Poll To-morrow

Wellington, Oct. 13. On the eve of the elections, appeals were issued to-day by Party leaders in connection with the polling which takes place to-morrow.

The Prime Minister, Mr. M. J. Savage, claimed that the Government has fulfilled its election pledges and held that high wages were the key to prosperity. He added that the Labour Government were pledged to maintain and improve the standard of living which he claimed had rehabilitated the country in the last three years.

Mr. Hamilton, leader of the National Party, attacked the Labour Government for extravagant spending and increased taxation. He dubbed the Government as the greatest taxgatherers in the world and promised the extinction of the State dictatorship.—Reuter Special.

*Bitter Fighting Continues As Chinese Retreat To RailwaySalt Gabelles Cause Unique Situation

Shanghai, Oct. 14.
An extraordinary situation is now existing with regard to the Shanghai salt trade, according to the local press.

This is largely due to the existence of two salt gabelles in Shanghai. The former one claims jurisdiction, while the new salt gabelle operating under the aegis of the Japanese-sponsored Taito regime is also to claim jurisdiction.

Importers are faced with the dilemma of which gabelle to deal with.

DRIVING INLAND FROM HACHUNG AND PAKKONG, TWO BIAS BAY COAST TOWNS WHERE LANDINGS WERE EFFECTED ON WEDNESDAY, THE JAPANESE SOUTH CHINA EXPEDITIONARY FORCE ENTERED THE IMPORT-ANT CITY OF TAMSHUI THIS MORNING.

Tamshui, which is only twenty miles from the Chinese section of the Kowloon-Canton Railway, fell shortly before dawn, it is reported.

The city is about ten miles inland from Bias Bay, and is reached from Hachung through a fairly wide valley between two chains of mountains.

Tamshui is on the east bank of the Taikong River, which the Japanese must attempt to cross in their drive on the railway.

It is about 18 miles from the British frontier.

It is reported that vigorous fighting proceeded throughout the night at Yimpatow, about three-quarters of a mile east of Tamshui.

Japanese artillery was brought into play for the first time since the invasion commenced, and a long-range bombardment was carried out by Japanese naval ships.

Tamshui was almost completely wrecked when the Japanese entered. For 72 hours it has been subjected to most incessant bombings by squadrons of Japanese machines, which have made Tamshui and Walchow, another Japanese objective, their principal targets.

HEAVY LOSSES CLAIMED

According to Chinese reports heavy losses were inflicted on the Japanese in the battle for possession of Tamshui and Yimpatow. Chinese reports state that the most vigorous fighting in the Bias Bay area is progressing in this sector, and claim that a large force of Japanese were completely surrounded near Yimpatow.

The Chinese now admit that Autow, on the eastern side of Bias Bay, is in complete possession of the Japanese. The defenders were forced to evacuate the town, which has a population of about 6,000, owing to intensive Japanese naval bombardment.

Government and Municipal officials will, it is believed, leave by special train this afternoon.

Following the capture of Tamshui the Japanese have effected a crossing of the Taikong River and appear to be pushing rapidly towards the Canton-Kowloon Railway.

All communication between Hongkong and Canton has now ceased. Railway bridges have been destroyed at several points, and the boom across the Pearl River below Bocca Tigris forbids prevent entry or egress of all shipping.

The last remaining link between Hongkong and Canton was severed this morning when several bridges in the narrow waterway from the Hongkong frontier to Walchow were destroyed. It is believed that Japanese planes effected their destruction.

Five British, one French and one American warship are bottled up in the Pearl and West Rivers as a result of the closure of the boom below Bocca Tigris.

In addition the steamers Tung On, Kinsung, Kwong Sal and Tintay, which last night embarked large numbers of British, American and Chinese refugees for Hongkong, are also bottled up. They were forced to disembark their passengers this morning.

A Reuter message states that preparations are being made for the evacuation of all Chinese women and children from Canton to the interior. Arrangements have been completed for immediately evacuating 400,000.

Notices in the streets of Canton urge the populace to remain calm and express the hope that they will take advantage of the arrangements made for evacuation.

The Chinese are admitting the fall of Tamshui. The Japanese forces are converging on Walchow from Tamshui and Nanshan.

Refugees interned.

More than two hundred refugees who crossed the border yesterday afternoon have been segregated at the Government Concentration Camp at Kam Tim Aerodrome in the New Territories.

A further influx is expected today as the Japanese drive in towards the railway.

Among the refugees were several from Tamshui.

It is believed that the Japanese now intend to cut the railway at Pingwu, slightly north of Shum Chun. Shum Chun is the first station across the border from Hongkong.

It is officially announced here that the Japanese Commander-in-Chief of the forces in the South, has issued a communiqué that his men landed at the south-east portion of Kwangtung Province without sustaining a single casualty. The troops are now advancing inland.

The communiqué also claims that the naval air force were engaged the whole of yesterday in strafing military establishments, bridges, military lorries and tanks, with considerable success. A bridge carrying the Canton-Kowloon Railway across the East River at Tung King, was destroyed.

Japanese planes twice flew over Swatow yesterday, but did not drop any bombs. Despite the tension, the populace there remains calm.

Emergency Laws Invoked in H.K.

THAT CERTAIN motorcar owners and drivers, local Chinese residents and rich people should all be killed were the statements alleged to have been made by an unemployed dentist named Wong Shui-chui, 43, who was charged before Mr. E. Hinsworth at the Kowloon Magistracy to-day with having made a speech on board the Yaumati Ferry launch Man Kung on October 9, in furtherance of the promotion of disorder.

The defendant was charged under the new Emergency Regulations. Det.-Sergeant W. Morrison prosecuted in the case.

Testifying, Mr. Lau Tak-po, managing director of the Hongkong and Yaumati Ferry Co., Ltd., said that on October 9 he was crossing the harbour in his motorcar, on board the Man Kung, when he heard sounds of shouting coming from the direction of the third class compartment.

He left his car and on going to the third class doorway he saw the defendant gesturing with his hands and shouting out loudly. He heard the defendant say: "All those outside sitting in cars deserve death. The drivers should also be killed. All rich people in Hongkong should be killed."

The defendant then mentioned witness' name and that of his son and stated, alleged Mr. Lau, that they should be killed as they were buying Japanese coal.

"Before he referred to my name," declared Mr. Lau, "I did not interfere with him, but when he mentioned it I did so. I went inside the third class compartment and took him out and left him in the charge of a ticket collector. Eventually he was handed over to a European Inspector of the Company."

HUNDRED PEOPLE ABOARD

Questioning the witness, Mr. Hinsworth asked him: "How many people did you estimate to have been in the third class at that time?"

The witness: "About just over 100. There were 20 to 30 people around him."

Mr. Hinsworth: "Do you think that the speech had any effects on the people listening to it?—Yes. There was no disorder."

The defendant was then asked if he wished to question Mr. Lau and he replied in the affirmative.

The defendant: "Did I not mention that those who increase the rents should be killed?"

Mr. Lau: "I did not hear you say that."

The defendant: "Did I not only mention that the rent owners should be killed and not about the Chinese residents in Hongkong?"

Mr. Lau: "No. You only deny me a blow!"

Mr. Lau: "Yes. I struck you because you did not stop when I requested you to."

HEAVY JAPANESE LOSSES IN NORTH

Great Supplies Of Booty Captured By Chinese At Taian

Air Arm Aided In Victory

Hankow, Oct. 14.

The fighting at Taian is described by the Chinese newspaper Sao Tan Pao as the bloodiest that has yet occurred in the Sino-Japanese conflict, and the greatest victory won by the Chinese troops.

The paper reports that 97 undamaged Japanese tanks were captured by the Chinese troops and that fifty tanks were destroyed. Some 300 light and heavy machine guns were captured, 27 Japanese airplanes brought down and a great quantity of heavy guns, rifles, munitions and motor lorries taken.

The Chinese air-arm was chiefly responsible for the victory, writes the Sao Tan Pao, over 100 Chinese airplanes having bombarded the Japanese troops for two days. More than 1,000 heavy bombs were dropped. Captive balloons were used by the Chinese for the first time.—Trans-Ocean.

TOLING OCCUPIED

Aikow, Oct. 14.

Precluding the decisive battle for the possession of Tahan, a fierce fighting is in progress in Toling, strongly fortified mountain south of the military road to Tahan.

Four Japanese Army detachments are pounding on the Chinese mountain fortress from different directions. By Thursday evening, the Japanese raiding units were reported to have captured the central section of the Chinese position.—Domel.

FRESH BATTLE

Hantien, Oct. 14.

Breaking the lull that prevailed in the past days due to continuous downpours of rain, the Japanese forces operating on the Hantien front at the northwestern base of the Taipieh Mountain Range on Wednesday morning launched a general offensive on Changlehunchai, last Chinese stronghold in the area.

The Chinese forces availed themselves of the temporary deadlock to gather large reinforcements from the districts of Macheng in northeastern Hupeh, and made feverish efforts to strengthen their fortifications at stake.

Paper Money Pays For War

Tokyo, Oct. 14. The Asahi Shimbun to-day announces that new war notes are to be issued to pay for the Japanese military expenses in China. It is said they will replace the Bank of Japan notes hitherto used to pay the expenses. Agencies will be established in Shanghai, Nanking, Hangchow and Soochow, and it is reported that the new notes will be used in South China.—United Press.

which connects Tungshian and Yangtien is also making favourable progress in favour of the Japanese forces, field dispatches state.

The information points out that the Japanese troops occupied Hsin-tan, halfway between Yangtien and Tungshian, at 9.00 on Thursday morning, while the Japanese troops driving south along the highway from Aikow to Tahan started a general attack against Teling Hill, important outpost north of Tahan, at 1 o'clock on the same morning.

Another Japanese column driving on Tahan from Jokh, which they previously reduced, has now broken the centre Chinese positions between Yangtien and Tahan.—Domel.

MARINES DYNAMITE BOOM
Aboard a Japanese Warship, Oct. 14.

The boom at the entrance of the waterway leading to Tuyeh was dynamited and destroyed when Japanese marines landed at Welyuan-kow on the south bank of the Yangtse early on Wednesday morning.

The dynamiting operations were carried out by a "death-band" which crept through the creek to within 50 metres of the Chinese defence lines.—Domel.

ADVANCE ON HANKOW

Tokyo, Oct. 14.

On the southern front south of the Yangtse River the Japanese drive on Hankow both overland and by water made further progress with the Japanese landing at the mouth of Welyuan Lake, in which vicinity the famous Taiyeh iron mines are situated, at 4.30 on Wednesday morning, naval dispatches reveal.

The Japanese marines, in co-operation with the military forces successfully blew up the strong boom at the mouth of the lake while another marine force reached to within five kilometres of Szechuan fort, at the mouth of Shihwei-yao port, whence the ore from the Taiyeh iron mines were hitherto shipped to Japan.

The Japanese warships also reached a point three kilometres downstream from Shihwei-yao. The situation along the River Fu,

Big Spy Case In America

New York, Oct. 13. The most important spy prosecution for the last 20 years opens on Friday in the Federal Court here, when the alleged Nazi spies, Otto Herman Voss, Guenther Gustav Rumrich, Johanna Hofmann and Herr Glaser, stand their trial for alleged espionage.

Voss is a German-born aircraft worker, accused of espionage at the Seversky plant, Long Island. He is a naturalised American.

Rumrich is a deserter from the United States army, and self-confessed novice field agent. He was born in the Chicago.

Johanna Hofmann, the woman in the case, was hairdresser on the liner Europa. She is accused of relaying information to high officials in Germany.

Two other Germans alleged to have been involved in the espionage work Dr. Ignatz Grebl, a former Nazi leader in the United States and a former U.S. army reserver officer, and Werner G. Gudenberg, ex-aircraft employee in Buffalo, at the Curtiss Wright plant, both of whom escaped to Germany during the preliminary investigation.

The prosecuting attorney is Mr. Lunan Hardy of New York, who obtained 18 indictments from the Federal Grand Jury as a result of the preliminary hearing of the charges.

FIVE MEN IN A BOAT EN ROUTE TO N. ZEALAND

Shanghai, Oct. 14. Three Poles and three White Russians are sailing from Shanghai to New Zealand on October 15 aboard a 30-foot lifeboat equipped with two sails and one auxiliary motor. They expect to make the journey with a cruise via the Philippines, Java, the Celebes, New Guinea and Australia.

The skipper and navigator is a Pole, whose two co-patriots are also technicians. The Russians are all acrobats who plan to entertain the natives on route.

The average age of the crew is 30. —Reuters.

100 Banishees Arrive Here From S'pore

Banished from Singapore for various offences, over 100 Chinese arrived in Hongkong this week by the steamer Shirlane.

They were met on arrival by Hongkong Police, who have taken the men into "protective custody" until arrangements can be made for their deportation to China.

Owing to the hostilities in Kwangtung, however, it may become necessary to intern them in the refugee concentration camp in the New Territories.

The banishees included two well-known Chinese, Wang Yean-chee and Lian Wen-hua, whose arrests were followed by demonstrations outside the Chinese Consulate-General at Singapore. Shops were closed and other incidents occurred at the same time.

An official of the local agents of the ship said to-day: "It was a larger number of banishees than usual. Generally there are between 20 and 60 on each boat and they are given separate accommodation."

SAFE DIET FOR GASTRIC ULCERS

Great care is needed in the feeding of sufferers from gastric and duodenal ulcers and inflammation of the stomach. The wrong kind of food will increase the pain and discomfort. In the early stages of treatment small quantities of liquid food must be taken at frequent intervals.

But strength must be maintained; the body must be kept nourished. That is why doctors and nurses recommend Horlicks as an ideal food for patients suffering from gastric ulcers and all inflamed conditions of the stomach.

Horlicks contains the essential elements of nourishment. It is pleasant to take. It builds up energy, restores vitality, without irritating even the most sensitive stomach. It gives you strength to combat a long illness, and shortens convalescence. Get Horlicks to-day.

In these difficult times of anxiety and worry, the task of carrying on and doing work which must be done is a doubly difficult one which must tend to exhaust one's nervous energy. Horlicks builds up strength, vitality and prevents that listlessness and tiredness caused by constant nervous strain. H. M. Hodges, 400-400, Asia Life Building, Hongkong.

BRITAIN MAY SEND MORE WARSHIPS TO HONGKONG AFTER CABINET MEETS

Premier Cutting Scotland Holiday to Return to London

Big-Scale Re-Armament In Britain Forecast

Special to "Telegraph"

(Telecommunication Ordinance 1938. Copyright by United Press. Received 6.30 a.m. Published 10.30 a.m.)

THE DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT OF THE "DAILY EXPRESS" PREDICTED TODAY THAT THE CABINET MIGHT DECIDE THIS WEEK-END TO STRENGTHEN THE BRITISH NAVAL FORCES IN FAR EASTERN WATERS.

It is understood, states the Correspondent, that Mr. Chamberlain is curtailing his vacation in Scotland for the second time since the beginning of September.

He will probably return to London to initiate a big-scale armament drive and at the same time consider suggestions that the China Station squadron should be substantially increased in view of the Japanese invasion of Kwangtung province.

The present British China Squadron, exclusive of Yangtse River gunboats, consists of the 5th Cruiser Squadron, comprising six cruisers; the aircraft carrier Eagle, the 8th Destroyer Flotilla, comprising nine destroyers; five vessels—H.M. ships Folkestone, Sandwich, Falmouth, Grimsby and Lowestoft—employed on patrol duties; the submarines Odin, Otus, Olympus, Orpheus, Perseus, Parthian, Phoenix, Pandora, Proteus, Rainbow, Rover, Regent, Regulus, Grampus and Rorqual; five West River gunboats, and H.M. ships Thracian and Thanet, of the local Defence Flotilla.

Recently two speedy motor torpedo boats, the first of a flotilla of similar craft, were added to the Station.

PALESTINE DISORDERS SPREADING

Entire Country In Throes Of Civil War

CAIRO, Oct. 13. IN SPITE of the sparseness of the uncensored accounts reaching here of conditions in Palestine, the opinion is rapidly gaining ground that the position of the British mandate Government is becoming more and more untenable each day.

Fighting is now going on in every part of the country and 28 battles have taken place during the last three days. The authority of the Government is now practically confined to those big towns having considerable garrison such as Jaffa, Tel Aviv, Haifa and Jerusalem.

Life has become insecure in most of the smaller towns, as recent events in the town of Tiberias have clearly demonstrated.

The Arab insurgents have already obtained control over the entire northern part of Palestine including Hebron, while the so-called terror triangle near Nablus and Tulkarem has, despite the draconic measures adopted by the British Government, become a place of permanent disorder.

It is now admitted that repressive measures were taken without the precaution of having sufficient troops to insure their enforcement.

Great importance here is attached to an ultimatum sent by the Arab Committee of Defence to Dr. Weismann, Zionist leader. The Jewish press calls this ultimatum a challenge to the British Empire whereas the Arab news papers regard it as a proof of power wielded by the Arab irregulars.

The news has just reached here from Jerusalem of a severe clash between British troops and Arabs which occurred yesterday evening on the road from Jerusalem to Hebron.

Three soldiers were wounded. One aeroplane, included in the military reinforcements rushed to the scene, is reported to have been shot down although the two occupants escaped unhurt. A number of Arabs were killed and wounded.—Trans-Ocean.

NEW CRISIS IN EUROPE

Czech-Hungarian Parleys Cease

KOMAROM, Oct. 13.

CAUSING A GRAVE CRISIS in the negotiations between the Carpatho-Ruthenian delegates and the Hungarian authorities, official despatches have disclosed a reign of terror in Ruthenia by organised gangs equipped with foreign arms and led by Hungarian reserve officers.

It is officially reported that there has been sporadic fighting and at least two Czechs have been killed, while many Hungarians have been arrested.

The Czech Government has invoked martial law.

It is also reported that terrorism is rife in Bratislava. A number of Hungarians have been arrested and charged with terrorist activity.

At Mukacevo, the centre of the Ruthenian terrorist outbreak, there is "murder, manslaughter, robbery and crimes endangering the public" according to an official description.

Meanwhile, the Czech-Hungarian relations are very strained.—United Press.

HUNGARIANS DEPART

Budapest, Oct. 13.

Negotiations between Hungary and Czechoslovakia were broken off at 7.12 p.m. this evening. The meeting lasted only five minutes, and the Hungarian delegation returned to the Hungarian side of the town of Komarom, and boarded a steamer.

Mr. Koloman de Kanya, the Hungarian Foreign Minister, issued a statement emphasising that the Czech counter-proposals referring to the new frontiers differed to such an extent from the Hungarian viewpoint, and there was such a wide gulf between the stand-points of the two delegations concerning fundamental principles of the new settlement, that they cannot hope to be bridged through the present negotiations.

The statement adds that Hungary will request the speediest possible settlement of its territorial claims against Czechoslovakia by the four powers who are signatories to the Munich protocol.—Reuter.

CZECHS REFUSE TO GIVE WAY

Budapest, Oct. 13.

Reports from Komarom state that in a two-hour session the Czechs were unexpectedly firm concerning their negotiations with Hungary over minority rights, an attitude which is attributed to the German and Hungarian assurances of support.

It is understood that the Czechs offered to cede an area inhabited by more than 100,000 Hungarians. However, the Czechs are adamant in their refusal to surrender Bratislava, Kosice and other cities.

Meanwhile Hungarian extremists spread in the Holy Land, and one Arab in Jerusalem was shot to-day. Four Jews were injured when a truck was bombed at Haifa.

Guards at the Gaza airport, returning snipers fire, killed one sniper, while a British Lieutenant was wounded at Haifa.

An exploding land-mine on the Lydda-Haifa railway wounded one Briton.—United Press.

WONT BECOME MINORITY

Geneva, Oct. 13. The Jewish Agency in Geneva has declared that it cannot agree to any proposal to make Jews into the status of a minority in an Arab State in Palestine.

The Agency thanked the British Government for its efforts to put down terrorism in Palestine, and asked the British Government to seek an equitable settlement which would safeguard the rights of Jews as well as of Arabs.

A London message says that the High Commissioner for Palestine left Southampton to-day by air on his return to Jerusalem.—Reuter Bulletin.

The talks are proceeding favourably.

Ten Million Gallons Of Petrol Afire

LINDEN, Alabama, Oct. 13.

After an 18-hours fight, firemen to-day extinguished a blaze which fed almost 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline, naphtha and kerosene oil.

It is estimated that the damage exceeds $500,000.—United Press.

Big Decrease In Germany's Unemployed

Berlin, Oct. 13.

The number of Germany's unemployed excluding Austria fell to the unprecedentedly low figure of 150,000 in September, while the number of employed increased to 29,850,000, showing an increase of 1,200,000 over last year.

It is stated that many Sudeten refugees were given work. In the metal industries the great demand for labour necessitated the employment of persons never before employed as ordinary workmen.

The number of women employed in September increased 25,000 most in the textile and foodstuff industries.

The number of unemployed in Austria in September fell below 100,000 for the first time, which is one-sixth the number of unemployed at the time of the anschluss.—Reuter Special.

which the Commission might propose according to the Munich agreement.

Under the circumstances the Commission unanimously agreed that the organisation of a plebiscite was unnecessary.—Reuter.

TO SETTLE QUESTION IMMEDIATELY

Prague, Oct. 13.

It is understood that M. Sirov, the Czech refugee agent, Sir Nell Malcolm, mean to solve the refugee problem quickly, lest Germany claims that there is still a German minority present, or that Czechoslovakia is harbouring enemies of the Nazi regime.—United Press.

Anglo-Italian Parleys Resumed in Rome

ROME, Oct. 13. Resuming negotiations for a quick settlement of the Spanish problem, Lord Perth, British Ambassador to Rome, unexpectedly called on Count Clano, the Italian Foreign Minister.

It is assumed that Lord Perth had received London instructions regarding the new aspect of the problem.

Coincident with the visit was the publication of the list of Black-shirt casualties in Spain, and there are indications that Signor Mussolini is displeased with the effect of the repatriation order in Britain and France.

Apparently he hoped that the British would agree to make effective a friendship pact as a result, whereas instead Britain has displayed no enthusiasm for the number to be repatriated, and is insisting that the numbers be increased.—United Press.

FRESH INSTRUCTIONS

Rome, Oct. 13. Acting on fresh instructions from London, Lord Perth again visited Count Clano this evening to discuss Anglo-Italian affairs. It is understood that the object of the conversation was to remove the particular obstacle holding up progress towards the ratification of the Anglo-Italian agreement.

The talks are proceeding favourably.

Two-Day Race Meeting Great Success: Fast Runs Seen

Favourites Had Lean Time On Second Day Of Carnival

(By "Captain Foster")

The Double Tenth Meeting under the auspices of the Hongkong Jockey Club held on Saturday and Monday at Happy Valley was without any doubt a huge success from every point of view.

The attendance on the first day was pretty good, but on Monday the crowd was much bigger and this could be easily gauged by the support received by the cash sweep department. In the last race, the lucky ticket No. 1021 which drew Mr. Li Lian-nan's Scenic View in the Kiangsi Handicap, received $3,304 for an outlay of $2.

The track was in excellent condition and although no new records were established there were a few fast runs, especially in the Kwangtung Handicap for "B" class China ponies. This event was won by Mrs. L. Dunbar's Red Feather, piloted by Peter Wel, from the 1½ mile post (about half mile 170 yards) in 107½ and the scramble was faster by one three-fifths seconds than King's Warden's time for the Double Tenth Plate over the same distance.

Racing was of very high standard, but the two main events, the October Handicap and the Double Tenth Plate, were poor, for there were only three starters for each race. However, all other events were keenly contested with several good finishes and this spoke volumes for the handicapping.

Centre Court Starts The Ball Rolling

The favourites had a lean afternoon on Monday, the crush commencing like a procession from the second event and Centre Court, with S. W. Tang in the saddle, started the ball rolling with a dividend of $205.20 for a win in the Canberra Handicap over the champion course for "A" class Australian ponies. This was followed by an explosion in the fifth race when National Guard, cleverly ridden by Young Wing-kwai, captured the novice event, the Fokien Plate, over a mile and paid $530 to the dole of 23 staunch supporters. The jockey not only broke his "duck" but the pay-out was the biggest of this season, the best last being by Oak Bay who handed out $431.30 for a win in the June Handicap. Young's success caused another sensation, for National Guard was the first leg of the daily double and there were six backers who could not connect the second leg. One of these six "unfortunate" selected Coronation Day while another picked Plain View. There were two tickets on Salvage Master, who was beaten by Gold Coin and one each on Valorous (third pony) and Whalsay. The most interesting feature of the gamble was that Gold Coin was made a hot favourite in the pari-mutuel department, but none of these six backers would place any confidence in the mare even with a crack jockey like Encarnacao. The pool of $3,704 will be carried over to the next meeting on October 22 and it is interesting to relate that this will be the third since the inception in 1933. The last pool carried over was on November 2 in 1933 when punters failed to connect Night Star with Beginner's Luck.

V. V. Needa Best Jockey Of Meeting

Append below a complete list of the successful riders:

	1st	2nd	3rd	Stakes
V. V. Needa	3	3	4
P. Y. Wel	3	2	1
C. Encarnacao	2	1	1
A. W. Raymond	2	1	—
H. C. Pih	2	—	2
S. W. Tang	1	2	1
H. J. Henrie	1	1	1
B. Proulx	—	—	—
Young Wing-kwai	1	—	—
P. L. Jui	—	2	—
B. L. Tao	—	2	—
L. Wade	—	1	—
L. W. Cotham	—	1	—
P. P. Botelho	—	1	—
H. P. Chanson	—	1	—
S. W. Lee	—	1	—
C. L. Gregory	—	1	—

The champion jockey of the meeting was V. V. Needa who had a ratio of 3-3-4, followed by Peter Wel who rode three winners with two seconds and a third. It will be seen that Needa was placed ten times out of a total of 16 events and those who had backed his mounts must have been on the right side. C. Encarnacao figures third in the list, while Allan Raymond is closely behind, losing the position by only a third.

OCTOBER HANDICAP A TAME AFFAIR

The October Handicap, which promised to be a great event, turned out a tame affair and Mr. Moller's Silkylight had an easy center to win four good lengths. Owing to the low imposition allotted to King's Warden and the pony being ridden by Needa, the Dynasty's candidate had some support in the betting but the grey stallion could not put a fight. It was indeed a great pity that Desert Chief could not weigh out owing to a stiff shoulder and the other nomination, Cameronian, belonging to Mr. Eu Tong-sen was considered by the connections to be a sprinter. However, Bear Claw with S. W. Tang up, broke the race first with Silkylight and King's Warden hanging on behind. At the football gate Needa took his mount forward and he maintained the lead until the 1½ mile beacon was reached when we saw the transformation scene. At this juncture Silkylight was given a stroke of the cane and the brown stallion responded so gamely that Proulx had no difficulty in overtaking King's Warden. In less than a second Proulx got on level terms with the leader and thereafter he had an arm-chair ride down the straight, winning by four lengths. In fact Proulx caged his mount in the last 100 yards from the touch line and the whole distance was covered in 2.30% which was two-fifths of a second faster than the Nathan Handicap (first section) for "B" class China ponies.

FAITH IN ELIZABETH JUSTIFIED

Judging by her performance in the Nathan Handicap (second section) over distance jaunt, the opinion formed by punters was that Elizabeth was more of a sprinter

RUGGERITES PREPARING FOR SEASON

Stake Money Very Evenly Distributed

It is gratifying to note that the stake money has been well distributed, no owner scoring a double, and it will be of interest to know that 30 stakes have come in for the spoils. The most successful owner was Mr. Li Po-chun who has a win, three seconds and a third and the total value of the stakes amounts to $1,450. Then comes the Dynasty and the owner of this stable is going to receive $1,200 collected by King's Warden and King's Lead. Mr. L. Dunbar's Red Feather, piloted by Peter Wel, from the 1½ mile post (about half mile 170 yards) in 107½ and the scramble was faster by one three-fifths seconds than King's Warden's time for the Double Tenth Plate over the same distance.

Racing was of very high standard, but the two main events, the October Handicap and the Double Tenth Plate, were poor, for there were only three starters for each race. However, all other events were keenly contested with several good finishes and this spoke volumes for the handicapping.

RUGGER MATCHES AT HOME

London, Oct. 13. East Midlands and Leicestershire had a very evenly-contested game in the County Rugby championship at Bedford to-day, the result being a draw of 13-13.

Nottinghamshire, Lincolnshire and Derbyshire defeated Warwickshire by 13-0.

The Police Union trounced Cornwall to the tune of 22-9.—Reuter.

London, Oct. 13. After a slayer. On Monday when she weighed out for the Yunnan Handicap over six furlongs, Elizabeth was made the favourite and here was justification placed in the mare for sie, in spite of the long, won as she liked in easy fashion. Considering the state of the going, the race was undoubtedly fast and the journey was timed in 1.285% which was really good. The brown mare is the property of Sir Vandal Grayburn, who christened her after his daughter and Miss Elizabeth Grayburn, who arrived here a few days before the meeting, was tickled and delighted to lead in her Elizabeth.

London, Oct. 13. NATIONAL GUARD SURPRISES BIG FIELD OF CRACKS

After a sequence of four unplaced outings National Guard, with Young Wing-kwai up, presented his credentials to the two judges and the pony came home first in the Fokien Plate for "E" class China ponies and sub-champions of this season. It was an amazing feat, for there were several good 'uns in the field such as Dark Hazard, Double Chance, Easy Time, Wenning and Yum Sing and, being a novice event, some allowance must be given. Dark Hazard unseated his pilot after passing the judge's box for the first time, but luckily nothing happened to the jockey, Chiu who was riding in the rear. The novices were out to kill each other and a fast race was seen. Timing was at necessary and the first half of the circuit was run in 1.05, the last half being covered in 1.07%. The result was that the ponies were crawling down the straight, the last quarter being chinked in 33½ seconds. However, National Guard paid $530 for a win, the best of this season. There were only six backers on the pony for the first leg of the daily double.

London, Oct. 13. Favourite Not Backed In The Daily Double!

It was not very edifying reading to those six punters when they found in the gambling sheet issued by the Club showing that Gold Coin had not been backed in the second selected race, the Hunan Handicap for "D" class China ponies, and the pool of $3,704 was to be carried over to the next meeting. It was impossible to understand, for Gold Coin was made a hot favourite in the pari-mutuel and she was neglected in the second leg of the daily double.

SPECIAL SWEEP

The main attraction to the Ninth Extra Race Meeting to be held on October 22 will be the Kwangtung Handicap for "D" class China ponies over a mile in which a special dollar cash sweep is being conducted by the Hongkong Jockey Club. The sale of this special lottery has exceeded 150,000 tickets and it is expected to reach the 200,000 mark ere long. Should the sale reach this figure, the first prize is guaranteed over $80,000.

SHANGHAI INTERPORTERS

ARRIVE IN COLONY: BOWLERS, GOLFERS

Two Interport teams from Shanghai arrived in the Colony this morning. The lawn bowlers came by the Tsinan and the golfers by the Rajputana.

The lawn bowlers who reached Hongkong to-day were H. Wallace, captain and manager of the team, J. M. C. Lopez, W. J. McDermott and K. L. Schwartz. The other two members of the team, J. W. Brierley and A. M. Gutierrez, have been here for a few days.

On their arrival, the Shanghai players were met by officials of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association, including Mr. A. Hyde-Lay (President), Mr. C. B. Hosking (Vice-President), and several members of the Hongkong team.

The official programme of the team commences to-morrow with a match against the Craigengower C.C., but it is more than likely that the visitors will be given a green for practice this afternoon.

Local officials are anxious to give the Shanghai players as much practice as possible before the First Interport, which will be played at Kowloon Tong on Sunday.

The programme is as follows:

Football Clubs' Prospects

No. 20—FIGHTING MEN OF POMPEY

Although Portsmouth made such a bad start that they only narrowly escaped relegation last season, they played football worthy of champions when they really began to make progress. Indeed, their record then—33 points from their last 27 games—was surpassed only by the Arsenal.

The team which fought so strenuously to keep the club in the First Division is available to start the new season, and it includes one of the strongest half-back line in the League in Guthrie, Rowe and Wharton. Altogether 22 players have been re-engaged, and although there have been no sensational close-season captures, several promising youngsters have been signed, bringing the professional staff up to 29.

RESERVE STRENGTH

Portsmouth's brightest prospect, in fact, lies in the strength of their reserves. Last season the second team were runners-up in the London Combination, and among them are several young players who would do well in any First Division side. There are one or two positions which the directors would like to see strengthened, but with a limited purse the club will probably have to be content with a few more juniors, in the hope of building them into good players.

Anyhow, Manager Jack Tins is quite alive to the position, but, as he points out, the club can hardly give the public better football than was produced in the second half of last season, and if the team continue to show the same form Portsmouth will soon be among the League leaders.

Among the newcomers are two young six-footers in Ernest Butler, an 18-year-old goalkeeper from Bath City, and A. Dale, a 10-year-old back

AUSTRIAN RELIGIOUS DISPUTE

Negotiations Broken Off
By Nazis

VIENNA, Oct. 13. THE FINAL breaking-off of negotiations between the Government and the Catholic Church in Austria was announced by Herr Buerckel in addressing a big Nazi gathering to-day.

Herr Buerckel blamed Cardinal Innitzer for "provoking a week-end demonstration against him. Herr Buerckel added that the demonstrators were mainly Czechs and Jews. Consequently upon this event he had ordered certain measures to be taken.

Firstly all Jews who were Czech subjects, and all Czech subjects who are politically suspect, have to leave Vienna immediately. Secondly all church schools in Austria not already closed are to be closed from to-day. Thirdly the political amnesty which will probably follow the Sudeten-German anschluss will not cover priests. Fourthly all efforts of the part of clerical quarters to obtain an amnesty for Dr. Kurt von Schuschnigg, former Austrian Chancellor, were finally refused. Fifthly no further negotiations between the Church and the State authorities in Austria will take place.—Reuter.

NOT A PRISONER

BERLIN, Oct. 13. Cardinal Innitzer, whose residence was stormed by rioters on Saturday last, is not being held prisoner in his palace according to the official German News Agency.

The report adds that the Cardinal, because of indignation against him among the populace has asked if a watch could be kept for his personal protection. At his request a guard was placed at his palace.—Reuter Bulletin.

CO-OPERATION PLEA

London, Oct. 13. "Zionism cannot be deterred by threats and killing," says the head of the Jewish Agency in Palestine in a telegram in reply to the so-called ultimatum of the Arab Defence Committee at Damascus.

The telegram says that if Arab neighbouring countries ever resort to the practice of massacring Jews they will not prevent the realisation of Zionism, but will only disgrace themselves.

The message adds: "We see the possibility of fruitful co-operation in Palestine embracing Jews, Arabs, as well as neighbouring countries, but on the essential condition that the basic rights of the Jewish people in Palestine are recognised."—Reuter.

U.S. DELEGATION

Washington, Oct. 13. A delegation of Jewish leaders, headed by Mr. Stephen Wise, President of the Zionist Organisation of America, called on Sir Robert Lindsay, the British Ambassador, and presented a memorandum requesting continuance of Jewish immigration into Palestine.

Sir Robert Lindsay undertook to transmit the memorandum to London.

The same delegation will visit Mr. Cordell Hull, the American Secretary of State to-morrow.—Reuter.

SEVERED HEADS

Jerusalem, Oct. 13. The severed head of two Moroccans who had been missing for some time from Jerusalem were found inside a sack near Damascus Gate, Jerusalem to-day.

It is believed that the men were formerly bodyguards to the Mufti of Jerusalem.

Various cases of sniping, arson and bomb-throwing are reported, including that two Arabs, one of whom was a Briton, was killed by Government forces near the Gaza airport.—Reuter Special.

PROTESTS TO WASHINGTON

Washington, Oct. 13. Following a deluge of thousands of protesting letters and telegrams, Mr. Cordell Hull said that Britain is unlikely to make a final decision regarding the further admission of Jews into Palestine prior to November. He said that he was studying the messages he had received carefully, and would make a statement soon.—United Press.

PORTUGUESE ON MURDER CHARGE

Shanghai, Oct. 14. Vasco Marcal, 28-year-old Portuguese was sent yesterday morning aboard a French ship to Macao where he will face his trials on a charge of murdering a British subject, Louis Maria da Cruz on September 5.

If convicted Marcal will serve a term on the Island of Timor in the East Indies.—Reuter.

ARAB LAWYER ASSASSINATED

Jerusalem, Oct. 13. Abducted and assassinated, Hassan Sidiq Dajany (40), leading Arab lawyer and Nationalist spokesman, is slain in the current rebellion in Palestine.

sidered concessions, it is believed on the Slovak side, could under certain circumstances prove fatal to the future of the so bitterly won autonomy.

According to the Hungarian demands, the Slovaks declare, one-fifth of their territory would have been ceded, and the important towns and places would all have been outside the new frontiers.

One of the chief reasons why the negotiations broke down, it is stressed by Emo Bohum, was because one could not agree which census to take as a basis for negotiations.—Trans-Ocean.

TO SEE HITLER

Berlin, Oct. 13. Dr. Frantisek Chvalkovsky, the Czech Foreign Minister, left Berlin to-night for Munich to see Herr Hitler, according to Czech circles.

It is explained in well-informed German circles that Dr. Chvalkovsky's conversations in Berlin to-day concerned the problems directly arising out of the Sudeten crisis, whereas the talk with Fuehrer will concern the future Czech-German relations.

It is declared that Germany is anxious that these relations should be close and friendly.—Reuter.

ANOTHER CABINET RE-SHUFFLE?

Warsaw, Oct. 13. A re-shuffle of the Czech Ministers abroad is imminent according to the Gazeta Polska.

The most important change will occur in London and Moscow, according to the paper, these Ministers being recalled and sent to South America. The paper also intimates impending changes in the Czech Foreign Ministry.—Trans-Ocean.

BRITISH LEGION READY

London, Oct. 13. Major-General Sir Francis Fetherston-Godley, leader of the British Legion volunteers visited the Foreign Office to-day and had a conversation with Sir Alexander Cadogan, Permanent Under Secretary. It is understood there was a discussion on whether the services of the British Legion detachment will be required in Czechoslovakia, but that no decision was reached, pending results of discussions in Berlin and the decision of the International Commission sitting there.—British Wireless.

VACANT TENEMENTS

Rapid Decrease Shown In Assessor's Report

The rapid decrease in vacant tenements of all classes owing to the influx of refugees from China, is shown in the report of Mr. J. Ring, Assessor, on the assessment for the year 1938-1939, which was laid before the Legislative Council yesterday.

According to the report, the number of floors reported and found vacant in 1937-1938 averaged 842 per month as compared with 2,070 the previous year, while the number of all classes of tenements each under one assessment reported and found vacant averaged 411 per month as against 936. Thus the total vacant areas averaged 1,253 per month compared with 3,006. For April this year, the total number of tenements and floors found vacant was 283 as against 2,595 the previous year. This great reduction was due to the influx of refugees from China since the previous August, following the outbreak of the Sino-Japanese hostilities.

The new rateable value of the tenements in Hongkong, Apelchau, Kowloon and New Kowloon amounted to $35,502,022 as compared with $34,208,734, an increase of $1,203,888 or 3.78 per cent. The valuation of the City of Victoria for the year 1938-1939 is assessed at $21,340,621, an increase of $542,074 on 2.61 per cent. Hongkong villages at $3,828,027, an increase of $256,149 or 7.71 per cent; Kowloon at $11,118,330, an increase of $113,890 or 5.37 per cent; and New Kowloon at $2,208,738, an increase of $81,775 or 3.84 per cent.

INCREASE IN VALUATION

The increase in the valuation of the City of Victoria compares with a decrease of $506,407 the previous year, and due to interim valuations of new and improved property, including notable Holland House, and to some improvement in rateable values.

The increase under Hongkong Villages is due to scattered building, storage land and some increase in rateable values. Last year there was an increase of $129,652. In Kowloon the increase compares with a decrease of $35,821 last year. It is due partly to new flats, Chinese tenement houses, godowns and storage land, and partly to improved rateable values.

The increase in New Kowloon compares with an decrease of $10,300 last year, and is due mainly to further building of European dwellings and Chinese tenement houses on the new lay-out near Kowloon City, to factory buildings, and the Chinese tenement houses in Shingmunpo.

During the 1937-1938 rating year, refunds of rate were granted for vacant floors of tenements where the owners had elected at the last annual valuation to obtain this concession. During the year ending April 30, 1938, 1,007 interim valuations, as compared with 1,263 in the previous year, were made.

In the ten years from 1928-1929 to 1938-1939 the rateable value of the Colony increased by $3,107,175 or 10.80 per cent. "The influx of refugees from China," concludes the report, "has led to rapid decrease in vacant tenements of all classes. While a few they were detained by the police on special duty there and sent to the concentration camps at Kam Tin, where there is accommodation for approximately 15,000.

CANTON REMAINS CALM

Canton, Oct. 14. Canton is very calm. Officials and the population have now recovered from their surprise at the Bias Bay invasion and are solidifying into a determination to stick whatever happens. There is a general realisation that where a small mechanised force faces a large armed force, the morale of the latter will prove decisive.

The city streets are completely normal and the people evacuating are chiefly from the middle-class, including wives and children. However, the usual baggage loaded on rickshaws is far less than during the bombings.

The population is hardened by the knowledge that crack troops under General Mo Hsi-chen are defending Wuchow, while strong Kwangsi detachments are guarding the West River districts.

Officials in the political department who are repairing the gear for war-time needs, asked what they would do if Canton falls replied: "We are proceeding on the assumption that the defence will be long-drawn and successful, and therefore we have not even considered the eventuality of Canton falling. The Japanese have backed their way into a thick forest in which they may very well get lost if they penetrate deeper."—United Press.

JAPANESE CLAIMS

Canton, Oct. 14. To a barrage of questions by Reuter's correspondent regarding reports of fighting in the Tamsui district, the Japanese claiming that 2,000 Chinese troops had been wiped out, and foreign reports that the Chinese air force was not active in South China, the Provincial Government spokesman could reply only: "We have no information."

Reports of the arrival of Chinese air force units seem to be confirmed by a telephonic message received by Reuter from a foreigner living on the outskirts of Canton, who stated that early this morning he witnessed several dog-fights between the Chinese and Japanese planes.

Meanwhile the alarm was sounded at 6.15 a.m. amidst a thunderstorm, and several bombers were sighted over the suburbs, though no bombs were dropped in the Canton area.—Reuter.

NEWSPAPER COMMENTS

Tokyo, Oct. 14. The newspapers came out yesterday morning giving prominence to statements regarding the Japanese expedition in South China, and gave editorial comment to the movement, emphasising the position of Britain and France.

The Asahi Shimbun and the Hochi Shimbun expressed a desire for a cautious and restrained attitude on the part of the powers concerned.

All the papers uphold the fresh military action. The Yomiuri Shimbun observes that the move was needed to disillusion the Chinese leaders who had been depending on foreign assistance.

Referring to the projected British manoeuvres with Hongkong as the centre, the paper declares that such a demonstration would "never check Japanese action, but on the contrary would only affect Anglo-Japanese relations adversely."

Stating that Britain and France had been the mainstays of the Central Government, "hitherto having extended assistance to Chiang Kai-shek through Kwantung and Kwangsi," the Michi Nichi blames the Japanese for the extension of hostilities southward. It adds that the loss of two provinces will prove fatal to General Chiang Kai-shek.

This view is also held by the Kokumin Shimbun, which denounces the British naval manoeuvres. It points out that a state of undeclared war exists between China and Japan, and asserts that there is "no necessity whatever for Japan to hesitate taking this military action for fear of complications with other countries."

The same newspaper criticises Premier Konoye for addressing notes to foreign diplomatic representatives on Wednesday in connection with the rights and interests of third powers in China. The paper declares that "if any country is menaced by the Japanese expedition to South China it is only receiving its due reward for resisting Chiang Kai-shek."—Reuter.

BASEBALL MANAGER

New York, Oct. 12. At a Baseball Writers' luncheon to-day, MacPhail announced that Durocher would manage the Brooklyn Dodgers for the coming year. The amount of the salary, however, was not mentioned. Durocher said he had and selected Chuck Dressen and Nashville as coaches of the team.—United Press.

"Fancy rents have, as a result, been obtained, and the rents of certain classes of property, notably the lower priced European and semi-European types of dwellings, have shown a more or less general increase, the bulk of the Chinese tenement property, both in the City and the outlying districts, has shown little or no increase in rents generally. The increase in the rateable value this year shows the turning point in the greatest and most prolonged decrease in rental values that has taken place in the Colony for at least the last fifty years. It is estimated that the fall in rents averaged some 25 per cent, though many rents fell by as much as 50 per cent."

"The influx of refugees from China," concludes the report, "has led to rapid decrease in vacant tenements of all classes. While a few

Brilliant Achievement Of Novel Aircraft

London, Oct. 13. Aeronautical experts are very satisfied with the performance of the seaplane Mercury the upper component of the Mayo composite aircraft on her flight to the Cape, and in particular with the faultless mid-air launching from the supporting airframe. The increased cost of modern armaments to the desirability of organising, equipping, and maintaining forces in India in accordance with modern requirements and to the limited resources available in India for defence expenditure to examine and report in the light of experience gained in executing the British rearmament programme, how these resources can be used to the best advantage, and to make recommendations.

Persistent adverse winds robbed the Mercury of the world's long-distance non-stop flight record as she was forced to land short of Cape Town owing to the exhaustion of petrol supply, and there is inevitably some regret. Floats, each of which is capable of taking 600 gallons, were only loaded with 475 gallons. The Mercury was already carrying 7,000 pounds more than on her trans-Atlantic flight, and although the experience of the last launch has shown that more ambitious starting loads may be allowed with safety, it is fully recognised that the programme of experiment by stages with the novel device of a mid-air launch was the only prudent one. The Mercury is now on her way home from the Cape by easy hops along the normal commercial route, and her future programme is already under consideration.

It is suggested she may make another survey flight with mails across the North Atlantic, resuming the project from which she was switched for the South African flight; or she might again attack the long-distance record. The third alternative would be a long journey well within her capacity over a route which has not at present been disclosed.—British Wireless.

Committee Will Conduct Investigation

London, Oct. 13. It was announced on September 13 last that on the invitation of the Government of India, His Majesty's Government had appointed an expert committee with the following terms of reference: "Having regard to the increased cost of modern armaments to the desirability of organising, equipping, and maintaining forces in India in accordance with modern requirements and to the limited resources available in India for defence expenditure to examine and report in the light of experience gained in executing the British rearmament programme, how these resources can be used to the best advantage, and to make recommendations".

The committee has now been constituted as follows, with the title, "Expert Committee on Indian Defence 1938-39": Chairman, Admiral of the Fleet, Lord Chatfield, Sir Ernest J. Strohmeier, Major-General Sir B. N. Scriggson-Brooke, Air Vice-Marshal C. L. Courtney, and Major-General C. J. E. Auchinleck.

The committee has already been taking evidence in London since the beginning of October, and will proceed to India on October 26. It

Boatman Took First Ride On A Motor-Bus

Sequel In Hospital And Court

With his head and face enveloped in bandages, a boatman named So Lo-ki, 62, was charged before Mr. K. M. A. Barnett at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning with having alighted from a bus while it was still in motion.

Det-Sergeant Kelly said that So had been travelling on a No. 11, Tolo, route bus. As the vehicle was approaching a station in Pei Ho Street, So stood on the steps and jumped off before the conductor could pull him back. So fell on his face and was sent to the Kowloon Hospital where he remained for three days at the expense of the injured he received.

Addressing So, Mr. Barnett asked him: "Why did you not wait for the bus to stop?"

The defendant: "I have never travelled on a bus before. I have been in Hongkong for three years." Sergeant Kelly: "He is a boatman from Aberdeen, your Worship."

Pleading sentence Mr. Barnett said to the defendant: "I think you have taught yourself a fairly good lesson, and since you are a boatman who do not come on land very often, I shall fine you $1."

The committee has already been taking evidence in London since the beginning of October, and will proceed to India on October 26. It hopes to present a report as early in the New Year as possible.—British Wireless.
